Using Scripture in the Grief

Process Willie L. Johnson, 2010-02-01 The Hilltop United Methodist Church of Columbus Ohio directly inspired this project because of the significant loss of elderly membership The elderly were dying at an alarming rate It became necessary to aid the church with grief counseling Many members of the church were still grieving over lost loved ones and needed healing to move on with their lives church life and private life The author and context associates agreed on the design and implementation of the model to be used for grief healing The methodology to be used was a tool for pastoral counseling and focused on grief issues The design and implementation included seven sermons five lectures and three interviews Pre and post questionnaires were distributed before and after each sermon After each lecture time was allotted for questions and answers Both questionnaires were used to measure responses of the listeners A final evaluation was made to determine overall effectiveness

Religious Education in the African American Tradition Kenneth H. Hill, 2012-11 Schweitzer's goal in this book is to explore what postmodernity actually means for theology and how theology and the church may respond to its challenges He focuses on the life cycle as it is changing with the advent of postmodernity looking sequentially at segments of the life cycle using different lenses modernity postmodernity and responses from church and theology Schweitzer concludes with a theology of the life cycle

Philosophy of Religion and the African American Experience John H. McClendon III, 2017-07-03 Most white philosophers of religion generally presume that philosophy of religion is based on what is a false universality whereby the white Western experience is paradigmatic of humanity at large The fact remains that Howard Thurman James H Cone and William R Jones among others have produced a substantial amount of theological work quite worthy of consideration by philosophers of religion Yet this corpus of thought is not reflected in the scholarly literature that constitutes the main body of philosophy of religion Neglect and ignorance of African American Studies is widespread in the academy By including chapters on Thurman Cone and Jones the present book functions as a corrective to this scholarly lacuna

In Search of Wisdom Prof. Anne E. Streaty Wimberly, Evelyn L. Parker, 2011-07-01 edited by Anne E Streaty Wimberly A guide for pastors church leaders and all who help African Americans in their search for a meaningful Christian lifestyle Forming Christians leading fallen and flawed human beings into the path of discipleship to a crucified and risen Lord is one of the central if not the central tasks of all Christian churches It is a difficult enough task anywhere but for African Americans beset by racial conflict personal crises generational separation and other concerns it is especially so African American churches must work particularly hard to counter the messages their members receive from the dominant and often unfriendly culture This book employs the biblical text and African tradition to draw on the idea of the search for wisdom as a potent way to help African Americans in their pursuit of genuine Christian discipleship Wisdom in African American tradition is not simply knowledge rather it is those insights attitudes beliefs behaviors and practices that create and sustain a life of hope and that produce an inherent sense of the worth of one's self. If their members are to engage in the search for wisdom, African American churches must build an intentional ministry of faith formation. Wisdom can be gained, the authors argue, when African Americans listen to the black oral tradition with its proverbial sayings, revered Bible stories, songs, and narratives from the lives of exemplary individuals. The book offers several similar avenues for the search for wisdom, including helpful models of black males mentoring younger black males as a remedy to the destructive effects that contemporary culture has on this segment of the African American community.

Faith, Stories and the Experience of Black Elders Anthony Reddie, 2001
 Working through oral traditions, this book illustrates the importance of spirituality and the family in African Caribbean culture. The author shows how intergenerational conversations where elders share personal experiences and reflections from their life with children and young people encourage, inspire, and educate the younger generation and contribute to their sense of identity. The author's approach can be applied in different cultural settings and both outlines and affirms an active role for older people in the community. It also provides useful historical background on the migration of people coming from the Caribbean to Britain. Containing case studies, it is a practical and reflective resource for religious professionals, social workers, and anyone seeking to understand the meaning of religion and faith for Britain's African and Caribbean communities.

Reclaiming the Spirituals Yolanda Y. Smith, 2010-11-01
 This volume deals with the varied forms of shame reflected in biblical, theological, psychological, and anthropological sources. Although traditional theology and church practice concentrate on providing forgiveness for shameful behavior, recent scholarship has discovered the crucial relevance of social shame evoked by mental status, adversity, slavery, abuse, illness, grief, and defeat. Anthropologists, sociologists, and psychologists have discovered that unresolved social shame is related to racial and social prejudice, to bullying, crime, genocide, narcissism, post-traumatic stress, and other forms of toxic behavior. Eleven leaders in this research participated in a conference on The Shame Factor sponsored by St Mark's United Methodist Church in Lincoln, NE, in October 2010. Their essays explore the impact and the transformation of shame in a variety of arenas, comprising in this volume a unique and innovative resource for contemporary religion, therapy, ethics, and social analysis.

A Church Wide Enough for Everyone Steven H. Propp,2018-02-03 Robert Schaeffer and Douglas West are best friends living in Oklahoma in 1963when they discover that they both sense a calling to become ministers in a mainline Christian denomination But from seminary and their early years in ministry to their golden years looking back on what it takes to lead a congregation a stimulating sometimes puzzling yet often inspirational world of theological controversies and congregational concerns would unfold for these two men of God A Church Wide Enough for Everyone follows these two men on their journey to demonstrate the continuing relevance of the Christian faith in a postmodern world After moving to Berkeley California to attend college and seminary they have little time to ponder the vast social changes taking place before they immediately enter into intensive critical study of the Bible and Christian theology And as Robert is then thrust into the ordained ministry with his wife Faye both men must in their own ways face the political cultural and ideological pressures of each passing decade responding to challenges from both within the church and from outsiders Are mainline churches and Christian theology dead Or might they be revitalized in the current century A Church Wide Enough for Everyone and the inspired journeys of two ministers offers a window into how this revitalization and new understanding is possible Journal of Theology for Southern Africa ,1998 Islam and Protestant African American Churches Marsha Snulligan Haney,1999 Presents a systematic means by which the criteria for the development of an appropriate model of Christian contextualization might be identified and formulated as a resource for the mission of evangelization and re evangelization in the African American community facing the challenge of Islam Educating Christians Jack Lee Seymour,Margaret Ann Crain,Joseph V.
