Choose one of these scenarios or create your own to use as an example in the activities below.

Scenario 1: Although using a water-spraying gadget at lunch, competing during an upcoming interschool sports day, the class and their company in the community would do this. (The needs to play in all something.)

Scenario 2: During school assembly, a group of students from the school made a speech about the importance of being a good person and how they can help in the world. (The needs to be a good person and how they can help in the world.)

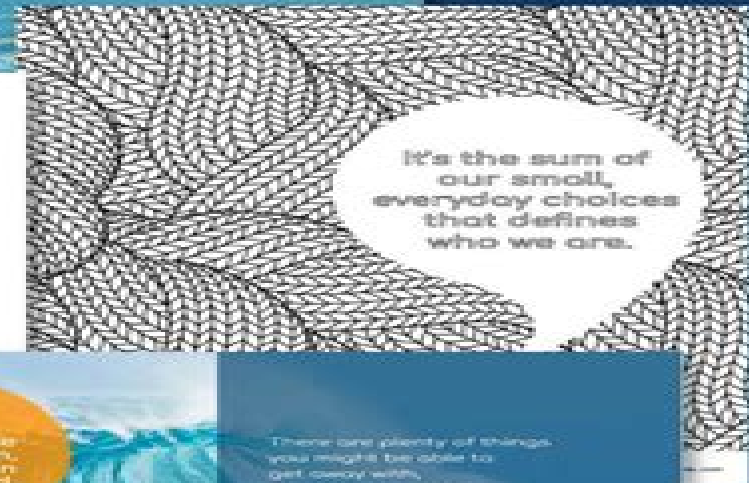

Scenario 3: A teacher can't believe that a friend asked that you, in that area, with the caption "Be a good person and how they can help in the world."

My Response:
