365 Daily Buddhist Thoughts Laurence Flood, 2018-03-06 Buddhism has been in the minds hearts and lives of men and women since the first historically recorded Buddha reincarnated in ancient India The person we know today as the Buddha who is also known as Shakyamuni and Gautama has been revered and honoured for over 2500 years His profound teachings have given hope and meaning to the lives of countless millions of people right up till the present day But just like us he was just another fragile human being filled with hopes dreams fears and concerns for the people around him and for the environment We are not told who his spiritual teachers were but like us today he must have searched for the wisdom that he needed to attempt to explain his purpose in life and his place in the vast universe Many of the quotes you will find on these pages are from the mouth of Shakyamuni Teachings in those ancient times where almost always oral and passed on from student to student and hence generation to generation You will also find the comforting words of sages such as Nichiren as well as modern wisdom from today's Buddhist teachers The book is fully illustrated and contains a new teaching technique using word art This is used to help free the mind to receive and understand these profound Buddhist teachings

The New Heart of Wisdom Geshe Kelsang Gyatso, 2012-07-26 This special presentation of Buddha's teachings by the author of Modern Buddhism offers truly liberating insights and advice for the contemporary reader It reveals the profound meaning of the very heart of Buddha's teachings the Perfection of Wisdom Sutras The author shows how all our problems and suffering come from our ignorance of the ultimate nature of things and how we can abandon this ignorance and come to enjoy pure lasting happiness by developing a special wisdom associated with compassion for all living beings Many people are very intelligent in accomplishing worldly attainments This intelligence is not wisdom because worldly attainments such as a high position reputation wealth and success in business are deceptive If we die tomorrow they will disappear tomorrow and nothing will be left for our future Wisdom however will never deceive us It is our inner Spiritual Guide who leads us to the correct path It is the divine eye through which we can see what we should know what we should abandon what we should practise and what we should attain Venerable Geshe Kelsang Gyatso Rinpoche
