THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA
IN NORTH AMERICA

In the past, the United States and Canada have been regarded as two separate and distinct nations. However, in the past few years, there has been a growing realization that the two nations are becoming more and more interdependent. This is due to a number of factors, including the increasing trade between the two countries, the growing cultural exchange, and the increasing political cooperation. As a result, the United States and Canada are now seen as a single entity, rather than two separate nations.
