Social Meanings Of News A Text Reader:

Social Meanings of News Daniel A. Berkowitz, 1997-03-05 What is news and why does it turn out the way it does These questions are addressed in this Reader Classic news studies representing several methodologies and approaches are presented to guide students in their initial exploration into the topics Berkowitz provides an orientation for a social approach to studying news departing from the premise that news is a human construction that gains its characteristics through the social world from which it emerges The first section of readings introduces a theoretical background for analyzing the sections that follow Each of the eight sections are clearly and concisely introduced by Berkowitz enabling students to interpret the salient points from and implications of representative articles in the field Cultural Meanings of News Daniel A. Berkowitz, 2011 What is news Why does news turn out like it does What factors influence the creation production and dissemination of news Cultural Meanings of News takes on these deceptively simple questions through an essential collection of seminal and contemporary studies by leaders in the fields of mass communication and media studies Similar in format and purpose to editor Dan Berkowitz's award winning Social Meanings of News this new volume represents a conceptual update a continuation of the discourse about the nature of news and how it comes to be moving ideas ahead from the earlier tradition of sociological approaches to the more pervasive cultural perspectives that inform understandings about news Cultural Meanings of News provides a carefully selected set of readings organized into thematic areas that each probe a dimension of the literature from sociological roots to cultural perspectives news as narrative and cultural text newswork as cultural ritual news as cultural myth news and its interpretive communities news as a source and reflection of collective memory toward the future of news research This text reader provides students and scholars with first hand exposure to cultural approaches to the study of news while also providing an organizing framework for understanding the commonalities and differences between threads in the research The goals are to engage readers through guided immersion in the material

SOCIAL meanings of news, 1999 Explaining News C. Archetti, 2010-07-05 The book challenges the idea that processes of globalization are leading to an increasing homogenization of news on a worldwide scale by focusing on two defining crises of our time 9 11 and the War in Afghanistan The empirical analysis combines process tracing as well as both quantitative and qualitative content analysis of governmental discourses and news coverage of eight elite newspapers across the US France Italy and Pakistan It develops a new multidisciplinary framework to explain news that brings together previously distinct levels of analysis the micro level of the individual decisions made by journalists the organizational environment of the news organization national social and political contexts the macro level of international relations The book is going to be of interest primarily to academics and researchers postgraduate students across communications media studies journalism politics and international relations as well as journalists media practitioners and officials involved in public communication Analyzing Media Messages Daniel Riffe, Stephen Lacy, Frederick Fico, 2014-02-05 Analyzing Media

Messages is a primer for learning the technique of systematic quantitative analysis of communication content. Rich with examples of recent and classic applications, it provides solutions to problems encountered in conducting content analysis and it is written so that students can readily understand and apply the techniques. This thoroughly revised third edition includes current and engaging examples for today's students in addition to a number of historically important cases. It emphasizes communication of visual imagery and studies of advertising content. Resources on the book's companion website provide additional materials for students and instructors including existing protocols, web links, and a bibliography of content analysis methods articles. This volume is intended for use as a primary text for content analysis coursework or as a supplemental text in research methods courses. It is also an indispensable reference for researchers in mass media fields, political science, and other social and behavioral sciences.

Cultural Protest in Journalism, Documentary Films and the Arts Daniel H. Mutibwa, 2019-02-13. Cultural Protest in Journalism, Documentary Films and the Arts: Between Protest and Professionalisation entails a comprehensive account of the history and trajectory of contemporary journalistic documentary film and arts and cultural actors rooted partially or wholly in radical, alternative, community, voluntary, participatory, and independent movements primarily in Britain and Germany. It focuses particularly on the examination of production and organisational contexts of selected case studies, some of which date from the countercultural era. The book takes a transnational and interdisciplinary approach encompassing a range of theoretical perspectives drawn from the political economy of communication, tradition, alternative media, scholarship, journalism studies, critical sociological and cultural studies of media industries, cultural industries research, and critical and social theory in conjunction with extensive ethnographic fieldwork. It does so to reveal the obscure nature of media and cultural production and organisation at seventeen media and cultural actors based in Britain and Germany, including South Africa and Nigeria. A particular focus is placed on how such actors balance competing imperatives of a civic, socio-political, professional, artistic, and commercial nature, as well as various systemic pressures, and on how they navigate the resultant ambivalences, paradoxes, and tensions in their day-to-day work. In essence, the book highlights key insights into a changing nature and quality of engagement with social and political realities in protest cultures.

Media Organization and Production Simon Cottle, 2003-04-18. Drawing on the work of international contributors, Media Organization and Production examines a wide range of global, local media organizations and the production of different mediums and genres. Following the editor's introduction, which sets out the principal differences of approach and defining debates, chapters address transnational and national commercial and public service corporations, international film and TV co-productions, children's television, news production, the historical development of liveness on radio and music journalism, the politics and organizational forms of alternative media production, including radical newspapers, video, and the internet, and the changing production ecology of natural history television. These topics are examined through a variety of theoretical and conceptual frameworks that help to illuminate how cultural production often involves a complex articulation of differing influences and constraints both material and discursive intended and unintended structurally determined and culturally mediated Together the chapters in this book help to recover this complexity and thereby help us to better understand the nature and output of today s media      Indian Country Victoria L. LaPoe,Benjamin Rex

LaPoe,2017-01-01 Storytelling has always been an important part of Native culture Stories play a part in everyday Native life they are often oral and rich in detail and language and serve as a form of recording history Digital media now allow for the extension of this storytelling This necessary text evaluates how digital media are changing the rich cultural act of storytelling within Native communities with a specific focus on Native newsroom norms and routines The authors argue that the non Native press often leave consumers with a stereotypical view of American Indians and aim to give a more authentic representation to Native journalism With interviews from more than forty Native journalists around the country this book is essential to understanding how digital media possibly advances the distribution of storytelling within the American Indian community      Media and Revolt Kathrin Fahlenbrach,Erling Sivertsen,Rolf Werenskjold,2014-02-01

In what ways have social movements attracted the attention of the mass media since the sixties How have activists influenced public attention via visual symbols images and protest performances in that period And how do mass media cover and frame specific protest issues Drawing on contributions from media scholars historians and sociologists this volume explores the dynamic interplay between social movements activists and mass media from the 1960s to the present It introduces the most relevant theoretical approaches to such issues and offers a variety of case studies ranging from print media film and television to Internet and social media      Doing News Framing Analysis Paul D'Angelo,Jim A. It approaches its subject from an innovative angle asking a series of key questions: How is Arab journalism different from or similar to journalism in other countries? What defines the tasks of journalists? Who has access to this field? How is power distributed inside the field of Arab journalism? When were the media programs launched at Arab universities and what characterizes them? Although the field of Arab journalism has received tremendous attention from the public as well as journalistic circles around the world in recent times this book presents the first detailed exploration of the area opening up a new research agenda and challenging the concepts taken for granted in Arab media scholarship      (Mis)representing Islam John E. Richardson, 2004 Explores how lite broadsheet newspapers are implicated in the production and reproduction of anti Muslim racism in Britain      Message Control Elizabeth A. Skewes, 2007-04-09 Message Control a look at what shapes the news from the presidential campaign trail comes out of the author's experience traveling with campaigns interviews with other journalists who have covered campaigns from the road and research on campaign news Elizabeth Skewes a journalism professor and former reporter investigates journalists' beliefs and the role those beliefs play in the election process as well as how the routines of campaign reporting affect news coverage While Skewes does find that journalists make an effort to inform the voting decisions of their readers by giving them a sense of context for each campaign and each candidate's character she also shows that journalists remain wary of staff manipulation and are constrained by pack journalism press pools and life in the bubble From on the trail perspectives to media theory explanations Message Control begins to answer the question of why political coverage focuses on personalities and peccadilloes when studies show the public wants less of this and more discussion of political issues

Making Media Content John A. Fortunato, 2005 Making Media Content addresses the development of media content and the various factors and constituencies that influence content such as advertisers corporate interests owners and advocacy groups It examines the strategic decision making of mass media organizations as they determine what content they present to their audiences through broadcast publication or electronic access The work focuses on the internal and external influences on media content laying out the various processes and opening up the topic for further consideration This book will appeal to academics in Advancing Media Production Research Chris Paterson, David Lee, Anamik Saha, Anna
