Faith in Action Richard L. Wood, 2002-09-15 Over the past fifteen years associations throughout the U S have organized citizens around issues of equality and social justice often through local churches But in contrast to President Bush s vision of faith based activism in which groups deliver social services to the needy these associations do something greater Drawing on institutions of faith they reshape public policies that neglect the disadvantaged To find out how this faith based form of community organizing succeeds Richard L Wood spent several years working with two local groups in Oakland California the faith based Pacific Institute for Community Organization and the race based Center for Third World Organizing Comparing their activist techniques and achievements Wood argues that the alternative cultures and strategies of these two groups give them radically different access to community ties and social capital Creative and insightful Faith in Action shows how community activism and religious organizations can help build a more just and democratic future for all Americans ECEI2009- 4th European conference on entrepreneurship and innovation Johan Breat, 2009 Organization Development Joan V.
