ANL/CNSV ,1981      Ship Resistance and Propulsion Anthony F. Molland, Stephen R. Turnock, Dominic A. Hudson, 2011 Ship Resistance and Propulsion provides a comprehensive approach to evaluating ship resistance and propulsion Informed by applied research including experimental and CFD techniques this book provides guidance for the practical estimation of ship propulsive power for a range of ship types Published standard series data for hull resistance and propeller performance enables practitioners to make ship power predictions based on material and data contained within the book Fully worked examples illustrate applications of the data and powering methodologies these include cargo and container ships tankers and bulk carriers ferries warships patrol craft work boats planing craft and yachts The book is aimed at a broad readership including practising naval architects and marine engineers seagoing officers small craft designers undergraduate and postgraduate students Also useful for those involved in transportation transport efficiency and ecologistics who need to carry out reliable estimates of ship power requirements      Warship Builders Thomas Heinrich, 2020-11-15 Warship Builders is the first scholarly study of the U S naval shipbuilding industry from the early 1920s to the end of World War II when American shipyards produced the world s largest fleet that helped defeat the Axis powers in all corners of the globe A colossal endeavor that absorbed billions and employed virtual armies of skilled workers naval construction mobilized the nation s leading industrial enterprises in the shipbuilding engineering and steel industries to deliver warships whose technical complexity dwarfed that of any other weapons platform Based on systematic comparisons with British Japanese and German naval construction Thomas Heinrich pinpoints the distinct features of American shipbuilding methods technology development and management practices that enabled U S yards to vastly outproduce their foreign counterparts Throughout the book comparative analyses reveal differences and similarities in American British Japanese and German naval construction Heinrich shows that U S and German shipyards introduced electric arc welding and prefabrication methods to a far greater extent than their British and Japanese counterparts between the wars laying the groundwork for their impressive production records in World War II While the American and Japanese navies relied heavily on government owned navy yards the British and German navies had most of their combatants built in corporately owned yards contradicting the widespread notion that only U S industrial mobilization depended on private enterprise Lastly the U S government s investments into shipbuilding facilities in both private and government owned shipyards dwarfed the sums British Japanese and German counterparts expended This enabled American builders to deliver a vast fleet that played a pivotal role in global naval combat      National Associations of the United States Calvert Jay Judkins, 1949      Engineering Standards for Forensic Application Richard W. McLay, Robert N. Anderson, 2018-09-14 Engineering Standards for Forensic Application presents the technologies and law precedents for the application of engineering standards to forensic opinions discussing Fundamentals Disciplines Engineering Standards The Basics and the Future of Forensics The book explores the engineering standard and how it is used by experts to give opinions that are introduced into evidence and how they are assumed to be the best evidence known on the topic at hand Final sections include coverage of NFL Brain Injuries and the Flint Water Crisis Examples of the use of engineering standards are shown and discussed throughout the work Addresses a wide variety of forensic engineering areas including relevant law Provides a new approach of study that includes the work of both engineers and litigators Contains contributions from over 40 experts offering the reader examples of general forensic methods that are based on reliable engineering practice Transactions - North East Coast Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders North East Coast Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders, Newcastle-upon-Tyne,1915 List of members in each volume Engineering ,1924 Transactions - North East Coast Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders North East Coast Institution of Engineers and Shipbuilders,1916 List of members in each volume
