

The Development of Post-War Philippine Land Reform: Political and Sociological Explanations

By David Wurfel. In Second View from the Paddy, Antonio Ledesma, Perla Q. Makil & Virginia A. Miralao, eds., Institute of Philippine Culture, Ateneo de Manila, 1983

Introduction

The history of Philippine agrarian policy since independence is a sadly monotonous one for the scholar, a bitterly disappointing one for the hopeful tenant cultivator. It is a story of repeated initiative from the center of government that did not result in anywhere near the announced change in the countryside. Explanations for this series of ineffectual reforms have varied from insincerity and corruption to lack of peasant interest in getting ownership of the land. The most convincing analysis, however, seems to relate to the political and economic interests of the top decision makers, those initiating policy and supervising its implementations, and to the socioeconomic characteristics of the agrarian systems being reformed. The cumulative political consequences of agrarian policy also find both political and socioeconomic explanations.

Agrarian reform is a complex of policies designed to transform rural society in the direction of greater equality of wealth and power among groups and classes, and greater equality of opportunity for individuals. Where agrarian reform has followed a successful revolution it has usually involved the uncompensated redistribution of land. A much more modest attempt at transformation may be the creation of cooperatives in which small cultivators are given greater opportunities than their large competitors. But the type of reform on which we will focus here is the redistribution of tenanted land with compensation to the original owner, land for which the beneficiary of reform must repay the government. Despite all the permutations in Philippine policy

Sociological Perspectives Of Land Reform:

Sociological Perspectives of Land Reforms Sheo Kumar Lal,1982 The God-Given Land. Religious perspectives on land reform in South Africa ,2009 Philosophical Perspectives on Land Reform in Southern Africa Erasmus Masitera,2020-11-27 This edited collection explores a variety of philosophical perspectives on land reform in Southern Africa Presenting an innovative focus on the philosophical themes in land reform the contributors reflect on traditional African conceptualisations of the land as well as Western interpretations introducing specifically Southern African approaches to a wide range of debates Rooted in questions of colonization and decolonization the chapters examine what reform ought to do for the people of Africa providing contemporary reflections on the different racial and cultural facets of the land Notably ideas of reconciliation compensation justice development emancipation Ubuntu and empowerment are explored Vigorous and interdisciplinary in their approach the fifteen original chapters tackle a range of questions such as What does land mean in Africa What ethical considerations are relevant Which mechanisms should be used in addressing injustice regarding land reform and redistribution Providing a comprehensive engagement with philosophical and political issues of land reform in Southern Africa this volume is an invaluable resource to scholars not only in Africa but wherever similar questions of land dispossession and justice arise Peasant Struggles, Land Reforms and Social Change: Malabar 1836-1982 P. Radhakrishnan,1989 Sociological Perspectives of Organic Agriculture Georgina Holt,Matthew Reed,2006 This book takes a fresh look at understanding the dynamics of the organic agricultural sector in Europe Australia South America and the US Many of the authors explore the use of combined methodology drawing on theory from a range of social sciences to demonstrate that the complexity of organic agriculture lies in the close connection between nature society and the economy Likewise whilst the book depicts organic agriculture as an engine of growth for the organic sector it reflects also the important role played by not only producers but also other actors in the supply chain such as consumers and certification standards GATE Sociology [XH-C6] Sets of 2 Theory Books As Per Updated Syllabus ,2024-10-13 Covered All 8 Chapters as Per Updated Syllabus Theory Cover in Detail Elaborate Each Every Topic Use Digram to Explain Design by Expert Faculties Pro-poor Land Reform Saturnino M. Borras,2007-09-06 Using empirical case materials from the Philippines and referring to rich experiences from different countries historically this book offers conceptual and practical conclusions that have far reaching implications for land reform throughout the world Examining land reform theory and practice this book argues that conventional practices have excluded a significant portion of land based production and distribution relationships while they have inadvertently included land transfers that do not constitute real redistributive reform By direct implication this book is a critique of both mainstream market led agrarian reform and conventional state led land reform It offers an alternative perspective on how to move forward in theory and practice and opens new paths in land policy research The Legacy of G.S. Ghurye A. R. Momin,1996 Comprises contributed articles on the life and thought of

Govind Sadashiv Ghurye b 1893 and on Indian sociology and anthropology Strategies of Social Change in India

Paramjit S. Judge, Gurpreet Bal, 1996 The book on the basis of empirical and historical investigations convincingly demonstrates that the process of change in India involved a great degree of ambivalence but there is no clear cut indication except that various strategies have tended to strengthen the position of the already privileged sections of the society The underprivileged are the last to benefit Ambedkar's Vision of Economic Development for India Gummadi

Sridevi, 2020-07-10 This book discusses Ambedkar's engagements with the issues of social justice economic development and caste enclosures It highlights his significant contributions in the field of trade public finance and monetary economics Indian agriculture education among others and examines their relevance in contemporary India The volume analyses the basic theoretical conceptions in Ambedkar's writings which attributed a key role to industrialisation favoured economic planning and progressive labour laws It reaffirms these theories and illustrates that focus on social and economic democracy promotes productivity equitable distribution of wealth and an inclusive society Through an analysis of Ambedkar's interdisciplinary works the book discusses issues of rural poverty lagging infrastructure growth the persistence of an exploitative ruling class and the economic and social marginalisation of the downtrodden which are still relevant today Further it offers solutions for a restructuring of the society under democratic principles which would recognise the basic right of all to social dignity and devise means to insure against social and economic insecurity Insightful and authoritative this volume will be of great interest to students and researchers of economics sociology development studies and social exclusion The Communist Education Systems in Historical, Cultural, and Sociological Perspectives Daniel Tröhler, Ragnhild Barbu, 2012-03-26 For nearly half a century research on education systems has been increasingly popular. However, this popularity was long restricted primarily to internationally linked policy makers and education planners often backed up by international organizations such as the OECD but also by governmental or para governmental organizations within the individual countries. These institutional affiliations provided education research with a specific character that often centres on notions such as excellence, efficiency or standards. The specific comparative character of this policy driven research agenda triggered the development of suitable research techniques such as comparative statistics and pertinent sub disciplines such as cognitive psychology. Backed up by powerful global institutions, this agenda purported to be rather unique and it tended to ignore the cultural complexity of the educational field and those research approaches that address this complexity. This volume includes different historical, cultural and sociological approaches to the education systems and to questions as to how research on education systems can be undertaken beyond the parameters of the existing research agenda. They demonstrate how pertinent problems of research on education systems can only be tackled taking an international and interdisciplinary approach with regard to both research questions and methods concerning education systems.

Promised Land Peter Rosset, Raj Patel, Michael Courville, 2006 This book represents the first harvest in the English language of the work of the Land Research Action Network (LRAN). LRAN is an international working group of researchers, analysts, nongovernment organizations and representatives of social movements.

Land Reforms in India Sucha Singh Gill, 2002-02-04 The sixth volume in the series on Land Reforms in India, this volume on Punjab and Haryana examines the evolution and implementation of land reforms in the two states in the context of emerging capitalist relations signified by the green revolution.

Understanding Gender in the African Context Kurebwa, Jeffrey, 2020-04-10 One of the most significant dimensions of gender studies is that it is political. It raises questions about power in society and how and why power is differentially distributed between different genders. It asks questions about who has power over whom, in which situations, how power is exercised and how it is and can be challenged. Different theories and perspectives within gender studies have different approaches to these questions and look for answers in different social processes. Many debates are on going as new data is revealed and new theories are put forth. Understanding Gender in the African Context is a scholarly reference that explores the complexities of the ideologies and social patterns that contribute to the field of gender studies. Featuring a range of topics such as human rights, feminism and social media, this book is ideal for policymakers, sociologists, social scientists, civil society organizations, government officials, academicians, researchers and students.

Modernity in India Renu Vinod, 2023-12-01 This book presents a sociological interpretation of the emergence of modernity in India via the colonial encounter and its ramifications for Indian society, economy and polity. It outlines the main features of modernity and the Western context in which it was defined both in classical and later sociological works as well as the Western roots of India's development project after independence. The Eurocentric origins of modernity in India are summarised along with the challenges it has posed in the political realm in the building of a pan Indian or national consciousness and in the emergence of dominant caste politics and regional and regionalistic parties to counter what was perceived to be an elite and marginalising project to modernise the Indian nation. It describes the trajectory that the Indian economy has undertaken from state supported capitalism at the time of independence to market centric neoliberalism by the 1990s and the effects of this trajectory on both rural and urban India. The dominating role of both the old and the new middle classes as formidable cultural forces and the heterogeneous character of the latter as a result of the upward mobility that has been underway since independence are also summarised as are the debates around the ever imminent breakup of the Indian family and its implications for women and the elderly. It ends by outlining the history and persistence of various economic and cultural forms of social exclusion in contemporary India. This book would be useful for students, researchers and teachers of sociology, history, political science and interdisciplinary courses in the social sciences such as modern Indian studies.

Reforming Land and Resource Use in South Africa Paul Hebinck, Charlie Shackleton, 2010-11-23. This book explores the debates surrounding land and agrarian reform in South Africa and explores how these reforms and particular those that make access easier have created new options for and broadened the use of land and natural resources.

One Hundred Years of Social Protection Lutz Leisering, 2020-12-14. While the rise of social protection in the global North has been widely researched, we know little about the history of social protection in the global South. This volume investigates the experiences of four middle income countries: Brazil, India, China and South Africa from 1920 to 2020, analysing if, when and how these countries articulated a concern about social issues and social cohesion. As the first in depth study of the ideational foundations of social protection policies and programmes in these four countries, the contributions demonstrate that the social question was articulated in an increasingly inclusive way. The contributions identify the ideas, beliefs and visions that underpinned the movement towards inclusion and social peace as well as counteracting doctrines. Drawing on perspectives from the sociology of knowledge, grounded theory, historiography, discourse analysis and process tracing, the volume will be of interest to scholars across political science, sociology, political economy, history, area studies and global studies as well as development experts and policymakers.
