FORMATH Vol. 7 , Wildlife and Protected Area Management Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 1997 Community Forestry in Western Indian Himalaya Nagendra Prasad Todaria, Dhanpal Singh Chauhan, 2025-03-03 The Van Panchayat in Uttarakhand India is a unique community forest management system the only one incorporated into the Indian Forest Act of 1927 Originating from local resistance against British colonial control of forest resources in the early 19th century this system has evolved over the last 93 years The book offers a comprehensive view of the Van Panchayat Institution covering the British colonial policies on forest control and the subsequent developments It

compiles all published work on Van Panchayat making it the first book dedicated to this system. The chapters explore various aspects like forestry policy management environment ecology economics and social and institutional dimensions providing a holistic understanding of the subject. Public and Private in Natural Resource Governance Thomas Sikor, 2013-05-13. This volume develops the rich conceptual and empirical content of public private relationships increasingly acknowledged as the dominant realm of natural resource governance. Ten wonderful studies from around the world illuminate opportunities for advancing the theory analysis and effective formation of sustainable systems of resource use. The book is excellent for courses in governance and public policy in any resource and environmental field. JEFF ROMM, PROFESSOR FOR RESOURCE POLICY, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA AT BERKELEY, US. The book addresses the theoretically and politically most important division of social organization into public and private. The authors bring an exciting multidisciplinary perspective to bear on changing and multiple publics and the strength of relationships connecting these two spheres in rural development and natural resource governance. The contributions range from consumer health and food safety soil science forestry and water management to sociological and economic aspects of natural resource property and governance. FRANZ VON BENDA BECKMANN, MAX PLANCK INSTITUTE FOR SOCIAL ANTHROPOLOGY, GERMANY. Natural resources have historically been considered as being governed in public or private spheres that is by the state on behalf of the people or by companies or individuals driven by the market. This dichotomy between private and public is now recognized as overly simplistic and it is clear that publics and privates operate at a range of levels and with differing degrees of separation or overlap. Bringing together a group of internationally respected researchers this book provides a new perspective on prominent issues in resource governance including the state NGOs civil society communities participation devolution privatization and hybrid institutions highlighting the three dimensional nature of relations between public and private. It builds on empirical analyses from six fields of natural resource governance agri environment biodiversity bioenergy food quality and safety forestry and rural water and employs a comparative approach that goes beyond the specificities of individual policy fields recognizing shared elements and allowing for a greater understanding of the dynamics underlying governance processes. Introductions to the volume and to each section summarize the key debates and highlight linkages between chapters. This is essential reading for academics students and policy experts in natural resource governance development and environmental policy. World Forests, Markets and Policies Matti Palo, J.
