Dalit Autobiography: A Critical Study Dipak Giri, 2025-03-01 Dalit Autobiography is a distinctive literary form in the sense that it shifts from personal I to communal we. This shifting from individual to communal differentiates such autobiographies from mainstream autobiographies where the autobiography mainly centers round personal experiences of the autobiographer concerned. On the other hand Dalit Autobiographies deal not only with the individual writer but also with the community he or she belongs to. Transformation of individualistic I into communal we makes such autobiographies completely distinctive literary form. Such autobiography reflects not only Dalit life and suffering but also their voice of protest and resistance. In this sense Dalit autobiographers are activists and writers as well. Among Dalit autobiographers irrespective of gender there are innumerable autobiographies written by male and female Dalit writers. The present book is my little endeavour to articulate the voice of Dalit autobiographers which is often neglected by the mainstream socio cultural life.

The ethical questions discussed in the book also engage with the notions of authenticity and responsibility, prompting the readers with a sense of validation and solidarity.

Untouchability in Rural India Ghanshyam Shah, 2006-08-04 This important book presents systematic evidence of the incidence and extent of the practice of untouchability in contemporary India. It is based on the results of a very large survey covering 560 villages in eleven states. The field data is supplemented by information concerning associated forms of discrimination which Dalits face in their daily lives. This study finds that untouchability is practised in one form or another in almost 80 per cent of the villages surveyed It is most prevalent in the religious and personal spheres While the evidence presented in this book suggests that the more blatant and extreme forms of untouchability appear to have declined discrimination is still practised in one form or another The most widespread manifestations are in access to water and to cremation or burial grounds as also when it comes to the major life cycle rituals The survey also found that the notion of untouchability continues to pervade the public sphere including in a host of state institutions and the interactions that occur within them
