The Relevance of Education Jerome Bruner, 1973 Education is in a state of crisis It has failed to respond to changing social needs lagging behind rather than leading The crisis that Jerome Bruner identifies in this volume admits of no easy solutions But the noted

American psychologist makes clear that educational reform must begin with the understanding of how a child acquires information and converts knowledge into action Drawing on his current work on infant development Bruner underscores the importance of formulating educational strategies that expand rather than constrict the skills of the young learner Since education takes place under conditions imposed by a technological society Professor Bruner maintains that it is not enough to attempt reform through minor curriculum revisions The program that fails to set knowledge within the context of action must be replaced And to be truly relevant to our social needs the scope of education must be extended toward overcoming the severe handicaps faced by children from impoverished areas

Handbook of Social Comparison Jerry Suls, Ladd Wheeler, 2013-11-11 Comparison of objects events and situations is integral to judgment comparisons of the self with other people comprise one of the building blocks of human conduct and experience After four decades of research the topic of social comparison is more popular than ever In this timely handbook a distinguished roster of researchers and theoreticians describe where the field has been since its development in the early 1950s and where it is likely to go next Affect,

Creative Experience, And Psychological Adjustment Sandra W. Russ, 2015-11-17 Previously neglected more and more affect and creativity is recognized as an area that is important and exciting area to investigate This book presents the very latest ideas and research by leaders in the field about the role of affect in the creative process Affect Creative Experience and Psychological Adjustment is an arena where new theories and concepts can be presented research findings compared and discussed methodological issues debated and future research outlined Key questions in affect and creativity focus on identifying specific affective processes that are most important in creativity discovering the underlying mechanisms that account for the relationships between affect and creativity exploring differential effects of various types of affect such as positive and negative affect on creativity and understanding how these things relate to psychological adjustment As with any new line of research investigation there is a fermenting of ideas speculations research findings hunches methodological issues and tests of theoretical models that evolves into a clear vision of heuristic theoretical models and identification of the most important research questions This book contributes to that process in the area of affect and creativity The Oxford

Handbook of Human Motivation Richard M. Ryan, 2012-02-16 The Oxford Handbook of Human Motivation collects together the field's top theorists and researchers to provide overviews of today's most noteworthy theories topical chapters on phenomena from ego depletion to flow recent work on the biological bases of motivation and applied in chapters on therapy work sport education and relationships Academic Motivation of Adolescents Tim Urdan, Frank

Pajares, 2002-09-01 Few academic issues are of greater concern to teachers parents and school administrators than the academic motivation of the adolescents in their care There are good reasons for this concern Students who are academically motivated perform better in school value their schooling are future oriented in their academic pursuits and possess the academic confidence and positive feelings of self worth so necessary to increasing academic achievement Because academically motivated students engage their schoolwork with confidence and interest they are less likely to drop out of school suffer fewer disciplinary problems and prove resilient in the face of setbacks and obstacles It is precisely because academic motivation is so essential to academic achievement that motivation has taken a place along with cognition as one of the most followed lines of inquiry in educational psychology In this volume we are fortunate to gather together some of the most eminent scholars who have written extensively about the academic motivation of adolescents We are fortunate also in that they represent the varied theories and lines of inquiry that currently dominate research in this area In all we believe that in the dozen chapters that comprise this volume the authors provide elegant insights regarding the academic and social motivation of adolescents that will prove of interest to researchers students teachers school administrators parents policymakers and all others who play a pivotal role or are otherwise invested in the lives of adolescents in today's society It is our hope that these insights will not only further the conversation on adolescence and education but will serve as the impetus for further research capable of generating the creative ideas programs and structures so necessary to better the lives of the young people in our care
