Social Security Inequality And The Third World:

Social Security, Inequality, and the Third World James Midgley, 1984 Study on the need to modify social policy and social security to promote egalitarian economic development and combat underdevelopment in developing countries examines obstacles to social protection of low income groups and improvement in their standard of living proposes various ways of achieving income redistribution incl Land reform progressive taxation improved social services etc Bibliography

Social Welfare in Global Context James Midgley, 1997-03-26 James Midgley provides a broad overview of social welfare outlining key institutions terminology historical research and approaches He also details reasons for the existence of international social welfare and the challenges that arise from it The author includes an important section on applied international social welfare that addresses the concerns of practitioners concerns that have been neglected in much of the literature in the field An entire section of the book is devoted to issues of social work practice social development the activities of international agencies and their collaborative efforts While practical application is an important focus of the book several chapters deal with key theoretical debates in the field The author also includes descriptive chapters that provide comprehensive accounts of world social conditions and social welfare institutions As a textbook on international social welfare Social Welfare in Global Context is primarily intended for students and practitioners of social work social administration and social policy But it is also relevant for students of sociology public policy and economics

Social Security Between Past and Future Franz von Benda-Beckmann, Keebet von Benda-Beckmann, 2007 Social security is a particularly precarious issue where states hardly provide any services in periods of need and distress This book analyses the arrangements relationships through which food shelter and care are provided on the island of Ambon famous spice island in Eastern Indonesia It also shows how relations of support tie Ambonese migrants in the Netherlands to their home villages and how normative conceptions of need and care among kinsmen and villagers change over time Though special in their own historical setting Ambonese networks of care and support are illustrative of poor rural populations in the Third World Focusing on the precursors of the violent conflict that erupted in 1998 the book shows that social security is like a magnifying glass linking past present and future

Social Security for the Excluded Majority Wouter van Ginneken, 1999 The large majority of workers in developing countries are excluded from social security protection Social Security for the Excluded Majority examines this problem in Benin China El Salvador India and the United Republic of Tanzania This book pleads for a participatory approach to the extension of social security and explores ways in which governments and organizations can come together to create practical workable policies to bring social security protection to all Through a series of detailed case studies compiled by an international array of policy experts this book looks closely at the workings of self financed schemes for informal workers that emerged in the 1990s and highlights the schemes that have been most beneficial It focuses on how NGOs cooperatives and other social organizations have been able to develop institutions and policies more in line with the requirements and contributory capacity of the informal sector The authors evaluate various approaches to the extension of formal sector social insurance to informal sector workers including the self employed In addition they explore how social assistance programs although often requiring sophisticated administration can help ensure that benefits reach the population most in need such as children the disabled and the elderly

Alternatives to Social Security James Midgley, Michael W. Sherraden, 1997-04-22 Few days pass without front page newspaper articles about the disarray in the American social security system and the oncoming crisis of exploding costs and imbalance between workers and retirees New proposals to address these issues constantly surface from presidential candidates Congress and interest groups Yet few recognize that in the second half of the twentieth century there has been a global expansion of social security systems and there may be lessons to be learned from other societies This collection of essays is designed to examine the diverse approaches developed in Australia Britain Chile Hong Kong Kenya and Singapore By analyzing different approaches and different degrees of success those debating public policy may find alternatives that can be adapted to meet American social needs Midgley and Sherraden have drawn together experts on the systems developed in Australia Britain Chile Hong Kong Kenya and Singapore they explore the different approaches and the different degrees of success these societies have confronted An international perspective can enhance understanding of the problems and offer a sound basis for evaluating policy proposals that may reform the social security system Scholars researchers policymakers and the reading public will find this a stimulating collection As Senator John Breaux notes This book is essential reading for anyone serious about addressing the inevitable problems that will face the U S Social Security system

Building Social Security Xenia Scheil-Adlung, 2017-11-30 In recent years in both the specialist press and the tabloids the idea of privatization of social security has become a shimmering catch phrase Politicians base election campaigns on promises of more or less privatization in social security Many governments introduce private business management methods into their social security systems Representatives of social security institutions and academics prepare theory papers on the possible outcomes of privatization And international financial organizations describe doomsday scenarios based on the premise of failure to privatize What is the role of privatization today in the development of national social security systems How does privatization concern the developments in different social security programs such as old age sickness unemployment accident insurance and family allowances What are the visions and effects of privatization in social security This volume provides an overview of the various positions of supporters and opponents of privatization in the main branches of social security followed by national experience of privatized or part privatized social security systems While the perspective of each of the contributors is markedly different the overall objective cuts across differences namely to develop the most efficient and cost effective system of social security protection The authors views and knowledge are derived from their firsthand experiences with social security in Africa Asia the Americas and Europe Representatives of the leading international organizations dealing with social security issues the International Labour Organization the OECD the World Bank and the World Health Organization further expand the parameters of the viewpoints and experiences expressed This multifaceted book allows the reader to learn about the challenge of privatization in the various forms of social security by assembling a set of highly up to date technically complex and legal issues based on practical analysis and actual experience It will be of interest to those concerned with national social policy in a comparative context This is the sixth volume in an ongoing series that aims to review social security in a comparative global context Xenia Scheil Adlung is program manager International Social Security Association Geneva Switzerland

Transnational Agency and Migration Stefan Köngeter, Wendy Smith, 2015-07-16 Migrants both spatially and mentally no longer settle in only one national territory but interact or move across borders regularly profoundly challenging the nation state and the image of society as a container This volume explores the ways in which migrants activists and professionals connect social worlds across national boundaries through a variety of social practices The contributions from various disciplines anthropology economics political and social sciences educational studies and social work illuminate the meaning of agency in situations where the capabilities of transnational actors are constrained by nation states their borders and social institutions Based on a relational understanding of transnational agency which builds upon new insights and developments within transnational studies and network theory this compilation of chapters presents transnational processes and developments in and across various regions of the globe in East Asia the Americas the EU Southeast Asia Africa and Australia in the borderlands of Mexico and the US in the transatlantic space of the 19th century fin de siècle world in order to demonstrate the importance of gaining assisting and expanding agency in transnational contexts

Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Asia, Volume 1 Ganesh Shivakoti, Ujjwal Pradhan, Helmi Helmi, 2016-09-01 Redefining Diversity and Dynamics of Natural Resources Management in Asia Volumes 1 4 brings together scientific research and policy issues across various topographical area in Asia to provide a comprehensive overview of the issues facing the region Sustainable Natural Resources Management in Dynamic Southeast Asia Volume 1 pulls together regional experts in the field to look specifically at sustainability issues across the region to see what has been implemented what the impacts have been and what other options are available In the race to be a developed region many Southeast Asian countries have foregone natural resources through haphazard use As a result the people are faced with numerous environmental challenges particularly deforestation and forest degradation biodiversity loss and ecosystem degradation reduction in soil quality and decreases in the quantity of available water Community based forest management is the involvement of local communities in the protection conservation and management of public forests to prevent degradation through sustainable practices while still responding to the basic social and economic needs of local populations When the people who depend on forest resources for their livelihoods are jointly responsible for managing and protecting them they tend to do so in a more sustainable manner by focusing on the long term benefits rather than the immediate short term gains However when tenure rights are weak unclear or insecure or offer limited benefits people are incited in extracting more immediate benefits resulting in suboptimal forest management and the reduction of carbon stocks Features case studies that cover issues such as rising levels of deforestation forest degradation regional food security ecosystem degradation biodiversity loss conflicts over natural resource use water management issues and impacts on local communities Includes contributions from local researchers who are dealing with these issues first hand and on a daily basis Includes a comparative review on REDD implementation in different communities Focuses on sustainability issues across the region

Poverty, Income and Social Protection Richard Hoefer, James Midgley, 2013-10-31 This book provides insights into the way social protection policy is being redefined as a result of the new commitment by governments around the world to use these programs to reduce poverty The case studies presented show how innovations in social protection have emerged in different countries They also discuss various aspects of social protection that will be of interest to readers While some of the case studies are primarily descriptive and seek to document recent trends in different countries they also address important social policy issues Others are particularly topical because they provide useful updates on recent social protection innovations Countries discussed include Brazil Britain Chile China Indonesia South Africa and the United States This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Policy Practice

Radical Inequalities Nara Dillon, 2020-05-11 The Chinese Communist welfare state was established with the goal of eradicating income inequality But paradoxically it actually widened the income gap undermining one of the most important objectives of Mao Zedong's revolution Nara Dillon traces the origins of the Chinese welfare state from the 1940s through the 1960s when such inequalities emerged and were institutionalized to uncover the reasons why the state failed to achieve this goal Using newly available archival sources Dillon focuses on the contradictory role played by labor in the development of the Chinese welfare state At first the mobilization of labor helped found a welfare state but soon labor's privileges turned into obstacles to the expansion of welfare to cover more of the poor Under the tight economic constraints of the time small temporary differences evolved into large entrenched inequalities Placing these developments in the context of the globalization of the welfare state Dillon focuses on the mismatch between welfare policies originally designed for European economies and the very different conditions found in revolutionary China Because most developing countries faced similar constraints the Chinese case provides insight into the development of narrow unequal welfare states across much of the developing world in the postwar period of mutual associations in providing income protection to low income people in Asia and in particular the region's developing countries. Historically these associations have consisted of small groups of people with common interests who save regularly to support, maintain and supplement their incomes. Members make regular contributions to a communal fund which is used to provide income protection when they experience financial hardship. This book is the first to comprehensively document the activities of mutual associations and their microinsurance programs in Asia where these programs are especially well developed. It provides a number of important case studies that provide detailed information about mutual associations in different parts of the region covering South Asia, Sri Lanka, Thailand, Mongolia, Indonesia and the Philippines. The case studies offer important insights into the potential of mutual associations to offer effective income protection and how their activities can contribute to the formulation of comprehensive and effective grassroots social security strategies in the developing world that make a tangible contribution to the goal of poverty eradication and the improvement of standards of living. This book will be of interest to policy makers, academics and students in the fields of Asian studies, Social security studies and development studies.

Social Protection in Southern Africa Leila Patel, 2017-07-05. A new generation of innovative social protection strategies is emerging in southern Africa. Although cash transfers are most prevalent, some country strategies include combinations of interventions such as food, livelihood inputs and support, asset building, public works and social services. The strategies vary in their commitment to social rights, their institutional and funding arrangements, the reach, scope and design of the programmes and the behavioural conditions attached to grant access. The proliferation of national social protection in the Global South has been widely supported by governments, international agencies and non-governmental organisations (NGOs). This book offers researchers and policymakers much to think about when considering the rapid growth of social protection in southern Africa, the challenges this presents and the opportunities it offers for social development and economic growth. Hence the book is a contribution to scholarship and policy debate on how to solve intractable social development problems in Africa and elsewhere. This book was originally published as a special issue of Development Southern Africa.

Between kinship and the state Franz Benda-Beckmann, Keebet Benda-Beckmann, 2019-10-08. No detailed description available for Between kinship and the state. Social Policies for the Elderly in the Third World Martin Tracy, 1991-01-30. This book introduces a problem solving model to cross national studies of social programs for the elderly in economically developing nations, the Third World, a term that is used here only as a designation of unspecified, relatively lower levels of industrial and economic development. Current models of cross national analysis tend to focus on theory testing and description; they fail to provide the practical information that indigenous policymakers need to decide whether another nation's policy, program or provision is appropriate to their own country. On Freedom Eileen Barker, 2021-12-24. The Crisis of Welfare in East Asia James Lee, Kam-wah Chan, 2010-06-23 The Crisis of Welfare in East Asia adopts a unique and critical perspective on contemporary social welfare policies in East Asia This edited volume reflects on current welfare theories and challenges the dominant productivist ideology that overemphasizes the influence of work and family James Lee and Kam Wah Chan bring together authors from different social policy domains to provide an updated assessment of inadequacies and limitations in current social policies as well as the problematic theories guiding them The authors demystify the so called East Asian Welfare Model and reengage themselves in the identification of an appropriate welfare ideology which includes a selective integration of social policy and economic development The Crisis of Welfare in East Asia is a dynamic and enlightening read that will interest students of public policy and those interested in welfare capitalism

Africa and Asia in Comparative Economic Perspective P. Lawrence, C. Thirtle, 2001-05-14 This invaluable collection compares the relatively unsuccessful economic development of Sub-Saharan Africa with that of the successful Asian economies especially the Asian tigers It covers three main areas of comparison the lessons for Africa from the Asian experience secondly the comparisons of various aspects of economic development in Africa and Asia and finally convergence how far the laggard economies are catching up with or diverging away from each other Child Poverty in the Developing World David Gordon, 2003-10-21 This report provides a summary of the results from a major international research project funded by UNICEF on child rights and child poverty in the developing world
