Social Work And Housing:

Social Work, Housing, and Homelessness Robert Hagan, Anya Ahmed, 2025-03-19 Shelter is a basic human requirement yet housing in the UK has increasingly been perceived as an asset rather than the secure base everyone requires for their basic physical and mental health needs and well being This book examines how all types of housing have become precarious for many service users with whom social workers will engage and makes some suggestions regarding action and best practice Showing how people become homeless and the difficulties finding a way out of this the housing options for specific populations including care leavers those with disabilities families and older people will be examined All this will be framed in the context of social work practice building practitioner knowledge and confidence around an area that affects everyone but the significance of which is sometimes underexamined in holistic assessments Packed with reflective examples and case studies each chapter also includes a tuning in exercise to help prepare the reader for what the chapter will tackle with concluding thoughts on these exercises at the chapter end This book is suitable for both undergraduate and postgraduate social work students as they begin to think of more specialised areas of work in their second or subsequent years as well as social work practitioners who will be increasingly aware of the pressures of housing costs on those with whom they work

Housing initiates new productive paths for research on this vulnerable population and contributes to preventive interventions that may improve the lives of affected youth Warsaw Housing Cooperative Magdalena Matysek-Imielińska, 2019-07-25

This book discusses the unknown and remote urban experiment of modernist social practices and dreams of a better tomorrow. It describes the history of the Warsaw Housing Cooperative not as a historical relic or a single case study but instead analyses this working class social housing estate in itself an extremely interesting emancipatory project from the perspective of contemporary urban studies. It focuses on issues related to the power of architecture, architects and the estate residents themselves, the city's performative actions, problems related to the polycentric character of the city, authorities, the opportunities of building urban institutions and social identities and urban common goods. Inspired by the history of the Warsaw Housing Cooperative, the book investigates how the estate residents assisted by social reformers today called urban activists organised the urban space of performative democracy and how they developed anti-capitalist urban survival strategies and created new lifestyles. It also analyses how passive tenants turned into active citizens claiming their right to the city. The inspiring book is intended for researchers in the field of performative studies, urban sociologists, critical urban studies, researchers, animators of social life and urban activists.
