Negotiating Assimilation and Hybridity: The Identity of Chinese-Malays in Brunei Darussalam

Chang-Yau Hoon and Nur Shawatriqah Sahrifulhafiz

Abstract This chapter explores the ways in which Bruneians who are born into a Chinese-Malay family define their identity. It details how the state classifies them in terms of ‘race’, how they negotiate their bicultural practices, and the day-to-day challenges they face while growing up in what we could term a liminal space of in-betweenness. Situated against the backdrop of state-level assimilation influence, the chapter discusses the ways in which Chinese-Malays negotiate between assimilation and hybridity. By articulating the everyday experiences of between and betwixt among these biracial subjects, the chapter reveals the various forces shaping the boundaries of exclusion and inclusion, belonging and non-belonging in Brunei Darussalam.

Keywords Brunei Darussalam · Chinese-Malays · Assimilation · Identity · Hybridity · Biracialism

13.1 Introduction

The population of Brunei Darussalam is estimated at 453,600 in 2020 (Department of Economic Planning and Statistics 2021). Comprising 65.8% of the population, the majority are classified as Malay, while the second largest ethnic group—the Chinese—make up 10.2% of the population. The Malays are an internally diverse group. The Brunei Constitution and the Brunei Nationality Enactment 1961 recognises seven indigenous ethnic groups (puak jati or puak-puak Melayu)—Belait, Bisaya, Brunei (Brunei Malays), Dusun, Kedayan, Murut and Tutong—as part of the Malay race (bangsa Melayu) that comprises the dominant population of Brunei

Social Media and Political Communities in Malaysia James Chin, Pauline Pooi Yin Leong, 2024-08-13 By examining the political discourse and social interactions that occur within six different political communities in Malaysia this volume sheds light on how theories of political communication and social media play out on a granular level Malaysia with its interesting amalgam of democratic politics and intractable racial and religious divides is ripe for a study of how online communication within different political and social groups actually works With chapters on Malay Islamic Chinese Indian and Christian online communities along with those of Sabah and Sarawak this volume will be of interest to anyone seeking a deeper understanding of how political interaction and digital discourse function on the ground in this important country in Southeast Asia Janet Steele Professor of Media and Public Affairs and International Affairs George Washington University Social media has emerged as a definitive tool for the production and dissemination of sociopolitical narratives that engender sweeping tides of change and transformation in our world today This expertly and ably curated collection of essays helps us better understand this phenomenon as it has unfolded in Malaysia where politics has undergone a sea change in recent years and it is essential reading for those of us who are interested in the trajectory of Malaysian society and politics Joseph Chinyong Liow Tan Kah Kee Chair in Comparative and International Politics Nanyang Technological University This book is relevant not only for readers interested in Malaysian politics The mid-sized Southeast Asian country offers a compelling case study for anyone thinking about online spaces and political participation in electoral democracies Among regimes with autocratic tendencies the Malaysian state was among the earliest adopters of an open internet which for two decades seemed to do nothing to weaken the hegemony of its ruling party More recently in an age marked by democratic backsliding around the world the country has shown potential to buck the trend The backdrop of these developments is one of the world's most culturally plural environments This welcome volume looks at how various ethnic communities communicating in each of the country's major languages have turned online spaces into the dominant arena for political contestation Cherian George author Contentious Journalism and the Internet Towards Democratic Discourse in Malaysia and Singapore 2006

Malaysian Chinese Lee Hock Guan, Leo Suryadinata, 2012 This collection of papers examines a variety of topics on the Chinese in Malaysia the nature of Malaysian multi-ethnic society and the position of the ethnic Chinese the conflation between ethnicity and religion the 8 March 2008 election and its impact on the community the similarities and dissimilarities of the Chinese positions in East and West Malaysia the new developments in the economy and the media and education in the past few decades under the New Economic Policy which have major bearings on the 8 March 2008 election and the post-election Malaysian Chinese community Chinese Overseas Chee-Beng Tan, 2004-03-01 This book examines issues of cultural change and identity construction of Chinese overseas as well as other important issues such as Chinese and non-Chinese relations and cultural and economic performance It offers a perspective of understanding Chinese overseas in nation states and beyond in a global context which the author describes as the Chinese ethnological field The author s many years of research on cultural change and Chinese ethnicity in Southeast Asia enables him to describe vividly the effects of localization the process of becoming local and identifying with the locals on Chinese ethnicity and cultural identities This informative and theoretically interesting book enables readers to have a deeper understanding of the issue of Chinese and Chinese ness in the diaspora     The Chinese in Malaysia Kam Hing Lee, Chee Beng Tan, 2000 Provides informative description and analysis of the historical economic political and socio cultural development of the Chinese in this country Book jacket

Ethnic Chinese Business In Asia: History, Culture And Business Enterprise Ching-hwang Yen, 2013-09-13 This unique volume provides a broad introduction to the ethnic Chinese business in Asia with focus on the ethnic Chinese in East and Southeast Asia The growing interest in ethnic Chinese business reflects its importance in these two regional economies and its relations with China s economy the world s new economic powerhouse It examines the nature and characteristics of the ethnic Chinese business such as business networks family business and conglomerates concepts of xinyong and guanxi and entrepreneurship and management It also examines the input of history and culture in the formation and operation of ethnic Chinese business The second half of the book is devoted to detailed regional studies covering the Chinese in Thailand Malaysia and Singapore Indonesia the Philippines Hong Kong and Taiwan This book provides an excellent introduction for tertiary students in business schools and for prospective businessmen who wish to do business with the Chinese in East and Southeast Asia     Transnational Chinese Diaspora in Southeast Asia Yos Santasombat, 2022-10-13 This book examines contemporary Chinese transnational mobile practices with special focuses on the ethnographic exploration of the lives experiences views and narratives of the Chinese mobile subjects in three ASEAN countries Malaysia Singapore and Thailand and their interactions with the ethnic Chinese communities in these countries This book is based on recent and updated original ethnographic research carried out by leading scholars in China and Southeast Asia The work addresses questions of integration and social embeddedness interrogating the possibility of whether the transnational Chinese diaspora can be simultaneously embedded into two or more nation states and geopolitical spheres It contends that in moving in the transnational space the Chinese diaspora may experience a strong yearning for a cultural home that may not be in one space for bicultural or multicultural diaspora It also asks whether the transnational Chinese diaspora is motivated to negotiate cultural membership and social belonging in a new country Shedding new light on the ways in which the transnational diaspora negotiates cultural membership to adapt to situational requirements this volume is relevant to scholars researching in China studies anthropology international relations and in Asian Southeast and East Asian regional studies     Pluralism

in Malaysia Nagata, 2024-09-02     Psychological Aspects of Social Axioms Kwok Leung, Michael Harris Bond, 2008-12-29 Humans are surrounded by trillions of stimuli Their eyes for instance can discriminate 7 500 000 colors But there is a severe limitation in the number of discriminably different stimuli that they can process at one time George Miller argued that they can handle no more than seven plus or minus two independent pieces of information at any given time Thus necessarily they must develop ways to simplify the task of processing the information that exists in their environment They do this in many ways One way is to select the stimuli that are most important in their lives what are often called values Another way is to chunk stimuli by linking them to each other so they form bundles of stimuli that can be processed as if they are one entity Generalized expectancies of what is linked with what are beliefs and these beliefs are structured into bundles see Triandis 1972 Southeast Asian Journal of Social Science ,1997 Recent Trends in Social and Behaviour Sciences Ford Lumban Gaol, Seifedine Kadry, Marie Taylor, Pak Shen Li, 2014-02-27 The human aspect plays an important role in the social sciences The behaviour of people has become a vital area of focus in the social sciences as well Recent Trends in Social and Behaviour Sciences contains papers that were originally presented at the International Congress on Interdisciplinary Behavior and Social Sciences held 4-5 November 201 Communication, Social Structure and Development in Rural Malaysia William Wilder, 2021-01-07 This is an important innovative analysis of communication and society in Pahang West Malaysia based on fieldwork carried out in Kampung Kuala Bera Dr Wilder is concerned with communication networks of all kinds as found in a long established Malay village including the uses of language small scale kinship and village based networks and higher level systems the district and the nation as a whole Dr Wilder lays particular emphasis on the role of communication in the process of economic development and on administration during a period of rapid and induced social change His study is prefaced by a detailed historical account of Pahang and a thorough sociological analysis of Kampung Kuala Bera The ethnography is meticulously detailed its special contribution includes the first ever publication of a Malay village genealogy a systematic account of birth order names a major feature of the kinship system complete figures on marital breakdowns for the whole village population and an intensive analysis of leadership in its local context This work will be of value to students of Southeast Asian societies rural sociology network studies economic development political education and the mass media in third world countries Growing up Female in Multi-Ethnic Malaysia Cynthia Joseph, 2014-08-21 This book provides a rich detailed analysis of the experiences of young women growing up in post colonial rapidly modernizing Malaysia It considers the impact of ethnicity socio economic status and school experiences and achievement It discusses the effects of Malaysia's ethnic affirmative action programmes and of the country's Islamisation It sets out and compares the life trajectories of Malay Indian and Chinese young women making use of interview and questionnaire data gathered over a long period It thereby depicts individuals' transformations as they experience maturing into adulthood against a background of social and economic changes and varying levels of inter racial tension Chinese Beliefs and Practices in Southeast Asia Hock-Tong Cheu, 2021-08-16 This book consists of fifteen chapters which can be divided into five major themes i Chinese religion ii Chinese attitudes toward religion iii Chinese spirit cults in Malaysia iv the development of local spirit cults and v major festivals celebrated in Malaysia The first section deals with three Chinese religious traditions in Malaysia in particular and other countries like Singapore Indonesia and Thailand in Southeast Asia in general The second section attempts to discuss on Chinese attitudes towards religion Chinese religious conception and its implication in their social life and how Confucian ethics have contributed to the economic success of the Chinese in Malaysia The Third section seeks to examine the various aspects of the Nine Emperor Gods the Datuk Kong Malay keramat and the spread of Malay and Chinese spirit cults to Sabah East Malaysia The fourth section deliberates on three major processes of change in the development of spirit cults in Malaysia the localization of Chinese locality cults including Tudigong and Dabogong the Sinicization of the Malay keramat and the indigenization or desinicization of an aboriginal Datuk Seman in Broga Selangor And the last section winds up with the practical aspects of celebrating festivals in Malaysia and other parts of Southeast Asia with special emphasis on festivals in general in the Chinese calendar the festival of the Nine Emperor Gods in Southeast Asia and the socio psychological aspects of the Nine Emperor Gods Vegetarian Festival in Thailand      Authoritarian Populism in Malaysia A.

Munro-Kua,1996-11-13 Socio economic and political issues are dealt with selectively within a chronological historical framework covering the dramatic colonial impact of 1940 60 until the present day The state is examined from the point of view of social class as well as communalism to explain the dominance of the ruling coalition over the 37 years since independence The author argues that authoritarian populism is the concept that best fits the apparent paradox of an enduring regime via the ballot box and the extensive restrictions on the scope of democracy particularly through the repressive apparatus of detention without trial The underlying theme is a critique and explanation of Malaysia s human rights record      Race, Ethnicity, and the State in Malaysia and Singapore Kwen Fee Lian,2006-07-01 Because Malaysia and Singapore share a common colonial migration and political history the racial ethnic composition of the two societies are unsurprisingly similar However since 1965 state nation formation has taken separate trajectories and this has had a differential impact on the processes of racialization and ethnicization in the two countries The contributions in this volume examine how various groups namely the Chinese Malays Tamils Eurasian and Orang Asli have accommodated or resisted the dominant influence of the state in incorporating and subordinating them Students and scholars of race and ethnicity will be interested in this work as it is the first attempt to bring together the work of several writers in documenting the consequences of state policies on ethnic formation in the region and raises theoretical issues relevant to this      The Chinese in Southeast Asia Joseph-john Nevadomsky,Alice Li,1973      Malaysian Development Martin

Rudner,1994-09-15 A collection of articles provides sweeping insight into the history and dynamics of Malaysian economic social and political development addressing such policy issues as the impact of agriculture education and human resource development      Case Studies on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms - Volume 5 Willem A. Veenhoven,2024-09-16      The Ethnic Chinese in the ASEAN States Leo Suryadinata,1989 The bibliographical essays on the studies of the ethnic Chinese in the ASEAN states will be extremely useful as it is the first monograph of its kind and also up to date It begins with a general overview on the studies of the ethnic Chinese in the ASEAN states and is followed by five country studies and two essays on specific topics All essays in this volume were written by specialists     Social Goals in the Classroom Martin H. Jones,2019-09-18 Social Goals in the Classroom is the first volume to comprehensively examine the variety of students non academic goals and motivations within the classroom Each expertly written chapter defines and investigates a particular aspect of students social objectives before addressing related findings on academic performance interpersonal outcomes and directions for future research Presented in three succinct and comprehensive parts this book reviews expands upon and theoretically synthesizes current research on the many different social goals to offer readers a thorough understanding of non academic desires and their consequences on learners educational experiences Situated in evidence based theory as well as real world contexts such as ethnicity sexual orientation and social media this insightful collection ideal for graduate students teachers and researchers explores how students social motives influence their academic performance and peer relationships
