Sociological Concepts A Literary Reader:

Sociological Concepts Ronald A. Hardert, Ruth M. Cullen, Linda Blalock Hardert, 1987 The Language and Literature Reader Ronald Carter, Peter Stockwell, 2020-08-19 The Language and Literature Reader is an invaluable resource for students of English literature language and linguistics Bringing together the most significant work in the field with integrated editorial material this Reader is a structured and accessible tool for the student and scholar Divided into three sections Foundations Developments and New Directions the Reader provides an overview of the discipline from the early stages in the 1960s and 70s through the new theories and practices of the 1980s and 90s to the most recent and contemporary work in the field Each article contains a brief introduction by the editors situating it in the context of developing work in the discipline and glossing it in terms of the section and of the book as a whole The final section concludes with a history and manifesto written by the editors which places developments in the area of stylistics within a brief history of the field and offers a polemical perspective on the future of a growing and influential discipline

Reading Cultures Molly Abel Travis, 1998 Molly Abel Travis unites reader theory with an analysis of historical conditions and various cultural contexts in this discussion of the reading and reception of twentieth century literature in the United States Travis moves beyond such provisional conclusions as the text produces the reader or the reader produces the text and considers the ways twentieth century readers and texts attempt to constitute and appropriate each other at particular cultural moments and according to specific psychosocial exigencies She uses the overarching concept of the reader in and out of the text both to differentiate the reader implied by the text from the actual reader and to discuss such in and out movements that occur in the process of reading as the alternation between immersion and interactivity and between role playing and unmasking Most reader theorists fix on the product of reading and exclude the process Travis notes which means they necessarily focus on the text Even theorists who argue for the reader's resistance make the text so determinant that they conceive of text and reader as discrete entities in a closed universe with these entities exerting force and counterforce respectively Missing in these accounts are wave and field theories concerned with such dynamic and contrastive effects as changes in the art of literary reading over historical periods and differences among readers in the context of a cultural field Travis seeks to fill gaps in current reader theories by focusing on process and difference Unlike most reader theorists Travis is concerned with the agency of the reader Her conception of agency in reading is informed by performance psychoanalytic and feminist theories This agency involves compulsive reiterative performance in which readers attempt to find themselves by going outside the self engaging in literary role playing in the hope of finally and fully identifying the self through self differentiation Furthermore readers never escape a social context they are both constructed and actively constructing in that they read as part of interpretive communities and are involved in collaborative creativity or what Kendall Walton calls collective imagining

The Psychology and Sociology of Literature Dick Schram, Gerard J. Steen, 2001-12-21 The Psychology and Sociology of Literature is a collection of 25 chapters on literature by some of the leading psychologists sociologists and literary scholars in the field of the empirical study of literature Contributors include Ziva Ben Porat Gerry Cupchik Art Graesser Rachel Giora Norbert Groeben Colin Martindale David Miall Willie van Peer Kees van Rees Siegfried Schmidt Hugo Verdaasdonk and Rolf Zwaan Topics include literature and the reading process the role of poetic language metaphor and irony cathartic and Freudian effects literature and creativity the career of the literary author literature and culture literature and multicultural society literature and the mass media literature and the internet and literature and history An introduction by the editors situates the empirical study of literature within an academic context The chapters are all invited and refereed contributions collected to honor the scholarship and retirement of professor Elrud Ibsch of the Free University of Amsterdam Together they represent the state of the art in the empirical study of literature a movement in literary studies which aims to produce reliable and valid scientific knowledge about literature as a means of verbal communication in its cultural context Elrud Ibsch was one of the pioneers in Europe to promote this approach to literature some 25 years ago and this volume takes stock of what has happened since The Psychology and Sociology of Literature presents an invaluable overview of the results promises gaps and needs of the empirical study of literature It addresses social scientists as well as scholars in the humanities who are interested in literature as discourse

A Sociological Approach to Poetry Translation Jacob S. D. Blakesley, 2018-10-31 This volume provides an in depth comparative study of translation practices and the role of the poet translator across different countries and in so doing demonstrates the need for poetry translation to be extended beyond close reading and situated in context Drawing on a corpus composed of data from national library catalogues and Worldcat the book examines translation practices of English language French language and Italian language poet translators through the lens of a broad sociological approach Chapters 2 through 5 look at national poetic movements literary markets and the historical and socio political contexts of translations with Chapter 6 offering case studies of prominent and representative poet translators from each tradition A comprehensive set of appendices offers readers an opportunity to explore this data in greater detail Taken together the volume advocates for the need to study translation data against broader aesthetic historical and political trends and will be of particular interest to students and scholars in translation studies and comparative literature

Fiction and Social Reality Mariano Longo, 2016-03-09 In spite of their differing rhetorics and cognitive strategies sociology and literature are often concerned with the same objects social relationships action motivation social constraints and relationships for example As such sociologists have always been fascinated with fictional literature This book reinvigorates the debate surrounding the utility of fiction as a sociological resource examining the distinction between the two forms of writing and exploring the views of early sociologists on the suitability of subjecting literary sources to sociological analysis Engaging with contemporary debates in this field the author explores the potential sociological use of literary fiction considering the role of literature as the exemplification of sociological concepts a non technical confirmation of theoretical insights and a form of empirical material used to confirm a set of theoretically oriented assumptions A fascinating exploration of the means by which the sociological eye can be sharpened by engagement with literary sources Fiction and Social Reality offers a set of methodological principles according to which literature can be examined sociologically As such it will appeal to scholars of sociology and literary studies with interests in research methods and interdisciplinary approaches to scholarly research

Fieldwork in Educational Settings Sara Delamont, 2002-11-01 Extensively revised and updated this new edition of Fieldwork in Educational Settings will be welcomed by researchers and academics in education and the social sciences Embracing both sociological and anthropological approaches to qualitative research the book covers education inside and beyond schools It emphasises writing up ethnographic research and getting the project finished and is packed with examples from research in progress This new edition brings the original text right up to date for new researchers There is an additional chapter on computer software for data handling and attention is given to the implications of postmodernism for writing up research The examples given are taken from the latest research replacing those from the first edition This is an indispensable handbook by an author whose work on this subject is widely recognised as being an essential resource for the researcher in education

Creativity and Sociology Matteo Jacopo Zaterini, Corrado Punzi, Mariano Longo, 2025-05-23 Creativity and Sociology Doing Social Research with and on Artistic Sources explores the relationship between artistic and sociological narratives considering the ways in which artistic narratives in their different forms can be both subjects of sociological observation and tools for the sociological analysis of reality Thematically divided into sections that focus on doing sociology on art and doing sociology with art it observes the major forms of art including literature music theatre painting photography cinematography and interactive arts such as videogames examining each as objects and instruments of sociological analysis as narratives that can offer new perspectives on the world Bringing together under a single epistemological framework area of research that frequently remains separate or beyond sociological framing this book will appeal to scholars of sociology social theory and social science methodology with interests in media and artistic narratives

World Literature Reader Theo D'haen, César Domínguez, Mads Rosendahl Thomsen, 2012-06-01 World Literature is an increasingly influential subject in literary studies which has led to the re framing of contemporary ideas of national literatures language and translation World Literature A Reader brings together thirty essential readings which display the theoretical foundations of the subject as well as showing its conceptual development over a two hundred year period The book features an illuminating introduction to the subject with suggested reading paths to help readers navigate through the materials texts exploring key themes such as globalization cosmopolitanism post trans nationalism and translation and nationalism writings by major figures including J W Goethe Karl Marx Friedrich Engels Longxi Zhao David Damrosch Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak Pascale Casanova and Milan Kundera The early explorations of the meaning of Weltliteratur are introduced while twenty first century interpretations by leading scholars today show the latest critical developments in the field The editors offer readers the ideal introduction to the theories and debates surrounding the impact of this crucial area on the modern literary landscape Canonical Texts Of English Literary Criticism With Selections From Classical Poeticians Rangoon Kapoor,2004-10 Literary Reading David S. Miall,2006 This is the first major book in English on literary reading to be based on empirical methods Moving the focus away from interpretation to the experience of literary texts these studies demonstrate the role played by feeling in readers responses showing how feeling performs important functions during reading that cannot be accounted for by cognitive understanding These studies not only reinvigorate the concept of literariness they are also thoroughly interdisciplinary offering a coherent approach to literary reading that draws on literary theory psychology neuropsychology and evolutionary psychology Several chapters help to introduce the empirical approach for students Research Handbook on the Sociology of Knowledge Fran Collyer,2025-07-15 This timely Handbook celebrates and contributes to the recent revitalisation of the sociology of knowledge A diverse group of leading experts from the global North and South provide a state of the art overview of a field which is developing rapidly with the growth of poststructuralist postcolonial and feminist approaches Building a National Literature Peter Uwe Hohendahl,2016-11-01 Building a National Literature boldly takes issue with traditional literary criticism for its failure to explain how literature as a body is created and shaped by institutional forces Peter Uwe Hohendahl approaches literary history by focusing on the material and ideological structures that determine the canonical status of writers and works He examines important elements in the making of a national literature including the political and literary public sphere the theory and practice of literary criticism and the emergence of academic criticism as literary history Hohendahl considers such key aspects of the process in Germany as the rise of liberalism and nationalism the delineation of the borders of German literature the idea of its history the understanding of its cultural function and the notion of a canon of major and minor authors Author Representations in Literary Reading Eefje Claassen,2012-02-15 Author Representations in Literary Reading investigates the role of the author in the mind of the reader It is the first book length empirical study on generated author inferences by readers of literature It bridges the gap between theories which hold that the author is irrelevant and those that give him prominence By combining insights and methods from both cognitive psychology and literary theory this book contributes to a better understanding of how readers process literary texts and what role their assumptions about an author play A series of experiments demonstrate that readers generate author inferences during the process of reading which they use to create an image of the text s author The findings suggest that interpretations about the author play a pivotal role in the literary reading process This book is relevant to scholars and students in all areas of the cognitive sciences including literary studies and psychology Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature Anna Lorraine Guthrie, Bertha Tannehill, Neltje Marie Tannehill Shimer, 1919
