Deterrence in the Twenty-first Century Max G. Manwaring,2013-02-01 This anthology argues that facing the diverse threats in the new world disorder requires a new look and new approaches The requirement is to establish that contemporary deterrence demands replacing the old nuclear theology with new policy and strategy to deal with the myriad state non state and trans national nuclear and non nuclear menaces that have heretofore been ignored or wished away

The role of terrorism in twenty-first-century warfare Susanne Martin,Leonard Weinberg,2016-12-21 This book presents a critical reflection on the major armed conflicts that occurred during the 1990s and the first decade of the twenty first century Conflicts in Bosnia Kosovo Chechnya Iraq Afghanistan and Syria all involved the use of terrorism by one or more groups Looking to the future the book asks what this means for violent conflicts yet to come Using a variety of case studies the authors provide a systematic and comprehensive analysis of the role played by terrorism as a stand alone tactic as well as one used to ignite broad scale conflict They also pose the question on what occasions does terrorism tend to occur as an armed conflict begins to subside and when in other words is it a trailing indicator No End to War Walter

Laqueur,2004-07-30 Describes the latest events and trends in terrorism against the United States War and Terrorism in the Twenty-First Century Blythe Lawrence,2019-08 The first few decades of the twenty first century have been marked by violent extremism and armed conflict with wars raging in the Middle East and Africa and terrorist attacks striking all over the world War and Terrorism in the Twenty First Century examines this conflict and unrest studies the reasons why it has flared up and looks at how people have tried to resolve these situations A World Challenged Evgenii Maksimovich

Primakov,2004-02-04 A Brookings Institution Press and the Nixon Center publication In this candid and sobering account former Russian premier Yevgeny M Primakov considers the threats posed by independent terrorist organizations to the security of the global community As the attacks of September 11 2001 made clear the course of international affairs is no longer shaped exclusively by cooperation and confrontation among nations Stateless factions with extreme agendas their methods enhanced by globalization and technological advances pose serious threats to global stability Primakov expresses grave concern over the likelihood that independent terrorist organizations will obtain weapons of mass destruction More than 100 nations are stockpiling nuclear material he writes and there is no reason to believe that all of it is well managed or protected A terrorist group intent on developing a weapon can easily find the information and fissile material to develop a compact nuclear device He recommends that the global community develop a comprehensive Charter on Terrorism to facilitate criminal prosecution of terrorism And he urges Russia and the United States to join forces more readily to share information and intelligence about emerging terrorist threats
