The Naval Battle Of Guadalcanal Night Action 13 November 1942:

The Naval Battle of Guadalcanal James W. Grace,1999 One of the most ferocious naval battles of World War II the night action off the coast of Guadalcanal on 13 November 1942 between U S cruisers and Japanese battleships fighting at point blank range claimed the lives of two American admirals Though famous for tipping the scales in favor of the U S Navy in this critical area of the Pacific this action has never before received the treatment provided in this book Here James Grace describes events from deck level and from both sides He draws on a wealth of previously untapped primary sources including the vivid personal recollections of some two hundred Japanese and American survivors of the fight These eyewitness accounts lend immediacy to a work that will appeal to the general reader as well as to serious World War II buffs and historians

United States Army In WWII - The Pacific - Guadalcanal: The First Offensive Samuel Milner,2014-08-15 Includes 3 charts 36 maps and 107 illustrations The successes of the South Pacific Force wrote Admiral Halsey in 1944 were not the achievements of separate services or individuals but the result of whole hearted subordination of self interest by all in order that one successful fighting team could be created The history of any South Pacific campaign must deal with this fighting team with all United States and Allied services The victory on Guadalcanal can be understood only by an appreciation of the contribution of each service No one service won the battle The most decisive engagement of the campaign was the air and naval Battle of Guadalcanal in mid November 1942 an engagement in which neither Army nor Marine Corps ground troops took any direct part This volume attempts to show the contribution of all services to the first victory on the long road to Tokyo It does not describe all ground air and naval operations in detail but it does attempt by summary when necessary to show the relationship between air ground and surface forces in modern warfare

The naval battles for Guadalcanal 1942 Mark Stille,2013-05-20 The battle for Guadalcanal that lasted from August 1942 to February 1943 was the first major American counteroffensive against the Japanese in the Pacific The battle of Savo Island on the night of 9 August 1942 saw the Japanese inflict a severe defeat on the Allied force driving them away from Guadalcanal and leaving the just landed marines in a perilously exposed position. This was the start of a series of night battles that culminated in the First and Second battles of Guadalcanal fought on the nights of 13 and 15 November. One further major naval action followed the battle of Tassafaronga on 30 November 1942 when the US Navy once again suffered a severe defeat but this time it was too late to alter the course of the battle as the Japanese evacuated Guadalcanal in early February 1943. This title will detail the contrasting fortunes experienced by both sides over the intense course of naval battles around the island throughout the second half of 1942 that did so much to turn the tide in the Pacific.
