The New Jersey Almanac 1999 Edition:

The Bondswoman's Narrative Hannah Crafts, 2002-04-02 Thought to be the first novel written by a Black female slave this work is both a historically important literary event and a gripping autobiographical story When her master is betrothed to a woman who conceals a tragic secret Hannah Crafts a young slave on a wealthy North Carolina plantation runs away in a bid for her freedom up North Pursued by slave hunters imprisoned by a mysterious and cruel captor held by sympathetic strangers and forced to serve a demanding new mistress she finally makes her way to freedom in New Jersey Her compelling story provides a fascinating view of American life in the mid 1800s and the literary conventions of the time Written in the 1850s by a runaway slave The Bondswoman's Narrative is a provocative literary landmark and a significant historical event that will captivate audiences Includes an updated preface adding additional context about the author's incredible life The Index of Leading Cultural Indicators William J. Bennett, 2011-08-03 For decades Americans have turned to the Commerce Department's Index of Leading Economic Indicators to spot trends in the economy The Index of Leading Cultural Indicators brings a similar kind of empirical analysis to the moral social and behavioral condition of American society from 1960 to the present a vivid clearly accessible portrait in numbers of who and where we are as a nation First published in 1994 and now completely updated and considerably expanded it draws from a wide array of government sources and academic studies to offer comprehensive chapters on crime the family youth behavior education popular culture and religion as well as new chapters on civic participation international comparisons and decade by decade comparisons For each topic covered there are statistical and numerical breakdowns tables and graphs ranking of states and a Factual Overview interpreting the data The Index of Leading Cultural Indicators should serve as the starting point of any discussion about America's moral and cultural condition William J Bennett's provocative introduction provides the essential context and perspective for the data he's collected offering an assessment of the problems besetting modern America Some have gotten better most notably crime and welfare rates leading him to conclude that politics and public engagement in social issues can make more of a difference than he once thought But there is much else of a worrying nature and Bennett pulls no punches in identifying pathologies and laying out the challenges we face No one who cares about American society and a whole range of social issues can afford to be without this essential volume a statistical snapshot an invaluable sourcebook and a call to action If the World Were a Village David J. Smith, 2011-02-01 This bestseller is newly revised with updated statistics new activities and completely new material on food security energy and health By shrinking the planet down to a village of just 100 people children will discover how to grow up global and establish their own place in the world village Iron Rails in the Garden State Anthony J. Bianculli, 2008 Fascinating stories of New Jersey's rich railroading history The Insurance Almanac and Encyclopedia, 1923 The Minneapolis Journal Almanac, 1899 Courier-Journal Almanac, 1901 The Tribune Almanac and Political Register Horace Greeley, John Fitch Cleveland, F. J. Ottarson, Alexander Jacob Schem, Edward McPherson, Henry

Eckford Rhoades,1908 Politics and the Environment Michael Howes,Griffith University,Australia,2013-10-31 An evenhanded realistic and thoughtful approach to identifying environmental problems and management goals Stephen Zavestoski Assistant Professor of Sociology and Environmental Studies University of San Francisco a theoretically advanced yet accessible treatment of environmental governance drawing on an impressive range of material to investigate the roles of states and industries in addressing environmental problems Harriet Bulkeley Department of Geography University of Durham Written in the vein of critical optimism this book is pitched at the right level to inspire people trying to make pragmatic changes to their governmental and industrial systems trying to make a difference where it counts Timothy Doyle Associate Professor in Geographical and Environmental Studies University of Adelaide What is the future for our environment We face serious risks of major industrial accidents and global environmental degradation yet new technological developments promise a standard of living unimaginable only a few generations ago Michael Howes outlines the ways in which governments have responded to environmental risk over the past four decades He examines the key environmental issues and the claims of envirosceptics offering a new strategy for making major administrative decisions in the face of uncertainty He explains how governments have developed environmental policy and the ongoing tensions between science industry the state social movements and electoral politics In a clear straightforward manner he shows how to use the work of theorists Ulrich Beck Michel Foucault and John Dryzek to analyse environmental policy He also develops a new method of measuring the effectiveness of environmental governance in developed countries Howes draws on a wide array of sources from business government environment groups academic research and NGOs to illustrate his arguments with comparisons between the environmental policies of the UK the USA and Australia The Chicago Daily News Almanac and Year Book for ... ,1908
