Comprehensive analysis of 220 hours of outtakes that impels us to reexamine our assumptions about a crucial Holocaust documentary Claude Lanzmann's 1985 magnum opus Shoah is a canonical documentary on the Holocaust and in film history Over the course of twelve years Lanzmann gathered 230 hours of location filming and interviews with survivors witnesses and perpetrators which he condensed into a 9 hour film The unused footage was scattered and inaccessible for years before it was restored and digitized by the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum In An Archive of the Catastrophe Jennifer Cazenave presents the first comprehensive study of this collection She argues that the outtakes pose a major challenge to the representational and theoretical paradigms produced by the documentary while offering new meanings of Shoah and of Holocaust testimony writ large They lend fresh insight into issues raised by the film including questions of resistance rescue refugees and above all gender Lanzmann's twenty hours of interviews with women make up a mere ten minutes of the finished documentary As a rare instance of outtakes preserved during the predigital era of cinema this unused footage challenges us to establish a new critical framework for understanding how documentaries are constructed and reshapes the way we view this key Holocaust film Cazenave's immense work of scholarship and reflection offers an intimate and exacting account of the way Lanzmann's approach to the project shifted and changed over the years of its creation Never before has there been a more insightful study of the evolution of his thinking I believe that any scholar who has worked on this film will agree Stuart Liebman editor of Claude Lanzmann's Shoah Key Essays This monumental book will profoundly change our understanding of Shoah and Lanzmann's highly influential shaping of the Holocaust narrative Cazenave reveals that the significance of Shoah is not only found in what is in it but perhaps more importantly what was omitted from it Aaron Kerner author of Film and the Holocaust
