Dear Friend Eric Torgersen, 2000-04 In 1908 Rainer Maria Rilke wrote his Requiem for a Friend in memory of Paula Modersohn Becker the German painter who had had a profound effect on him both personally and artistically and who had died a year earlier Modersohn Becker despite being one of the great modern painters is today remembered primarily as she is portrayed in that poem In Dear Friend Eric Torgersen looks at the relationship of these two great artists whose vexed seven year friendship was extraordinarily productive for both and offers an introduction to the life and work of Modersohn Becker a gifted and determined woman whose work stands comparison with that of any painter of her day Included in the book are sixteen illustrations as well as new translations by Torgersen of Rilke's Requiem for a Friend and of the love poems Rilke wrote for Becker shortly after they met Torgersen discusses Modersohn Becker's vital paintings including her unfinished portrait of Rilke He quotes extensively from the letters and journals of both figures translating many of Rilke's into English for the first time Finally Torgersen addresses the unanswered question of whether the two were ever lovers and offers new insights into Rilke's writing of Requiem for a Friend Jacket      Walter Kaufmann Stanley Corngold, 2018-12-11

The first complete account of the ideas and writings of a major figure in twentieth century intellectual life Walter Kaufmann 1921 1980 was a charismatic philosopher critic translator and poet who fled Nazi Germany at the age of eighteen emigrating alone to the United States He was astonishingly prolific until his untimely death at age fifty nine writing some dozen major books all marked by breathtaking erudition and a provocative essayistic style He single handedly rehabilitated Nietzsche's reputation after World War II and was enormously influential in introducing postwar American readers to existentialism Until now no book has examined his intellectual legacy Stanley Corngold provides the first in depth study of Kaufmann's thought covering all his major works He shows how Kaufmann speaks to many issues that concern us today such as the good of philosophy the effects of religion the persistence of tragedy and the crisis of the humanities in an age of technology Few scholars in modern times can match Kaufmann's range of interests from philosophy and literature to intellectual history and comparative religion from psychology and photography to art and architecture Corngold provides a heartfelt portrait of a man who to an extraordinary extent transfigured his personal experience in the pages of his books This original study both appreciative and critical is the definitive intellectual life of one of the twentieth century's most engaging yet neglected thinkers It will introduce Kaufmann to a new generation of readers and serves as a fitting tribute to a scholar's incomparable libido sciendi or lust for knowledge

Interpreting Law and Literature Sanford Levinson, Steven Mailloux, 1988 From the Preface Contemporary theory has usefully analyzed how alternative modes of interpretation produce different meanings how reading itself is constituted by the variable perspectives of readers and how these perspectives are in turn defined by prejudices ideologies interests and so forth Some theorists have argued persuasively that textual meaning in literature and in literary interpretation is structured by repression and forgetting by what the literary or critical text does not say as much as by what it does All these claims are directly relevant to legal hermeneutics and thus it is no surprise that legal theorists have recently been turning to literary theory for potential insight into the interpretation of law This collection of essays is designed to represent the especially rich interactive that has taken place between legal and literary hermeneutics during the past ten years

Scripture, Culture, and Agriculture Ellen F. Davis, 2008-10-13 This book examines the theology and ethics of land use especially the practices of modern industrialized agriculture in light of critical biblical exegesis Nine interrelated essays explore the biblical writers' pervasive concern for the care of arable land against the background of the geography social structures and religious thought of ancient Israel This approach consistently brings out neglected aspects of texts both poetry and prose that are central to Jewish and Christian traditions Rather than seeking solutions from the past Davis creates a conversation between ancient texts and contemporary agrarian writers thus she provides a fresh perspective from which to view the destructive practices and assumptions that now dominate the global food economy The biblical exegesis is wide ranging and sophisticated the language is literate and accessible to a broad audience

Rilke's Hands Harold Schweizer, 2022-11-24 This is a book of meditative reading Each of the sixty one aphoristic entries aims to interpret Rilke's poetry as a musician might play Debussy's Clair de lune to transpose into the key of language the song the melody and the refrain of Rilke's gentle disposition his recognition of the transience of things his acknowledgment of the vulnerability and fragility of people animals and flowers his empathy toward those who suffer The cut flowers gently laid out on the garden table recovering from their death already begun in one of the Sonnets to Orpheus form a thread now visible now faint through most of this book And because of the flowers the concept of gentleness forms another thread and because of gentleness hands agents of gentleness throughout Rilke's poetry enfold these pages The German word leise gentle tender quiet weaves the first thread the second is woven by flowers then by girls hands then by angels the beloved the poor the dying and the dead animals birds dogs fountains things vanishings The purpose of this essay is to experience and to examine gentleness how it shapes and pervades Rilke's work how his poetry might gently inspire us to become more gentle people
