Eternity in British Romantic Poetry Madeleine Callaghan, 2022-05-13 Eternity in British Romantic Poetry explores the representation of the relationship between eternity and the mortal world in the poetry of the period It offers an original approach to Romanticism that demonstrates against the grain the dominant intellectual preoccupation of the era the relationship between the mortal and the eternal The project's scope is two fold firstly it analyses the prevalence and range of images of eternity from apocalypse and afterlife to transcendence in Romantic poetry secondly it opens up a new and more nuanced focus on how Romantic poets imagined and interacted with the idea of eternity Every poet featured in the book seeks and finds their uniqueness in their apprehension of eternity From Blake's assertion of the Eternal Now to Keats's defiance of eternity Wordsworth's two consciousnesses versus Coleridge's capacious poetry Byron's swithering between versions of eternity compared to Shelleyan yearning and Hemans's superlative account of everlasting female suffering each poet finds new versions of eternity to explore or reject This monograph sets out a paradigm shifting approach to the aesthetic and philosophical power of eternity in Romantic poetry

Futures of Enlightenment Poetry Dustin D. Stewart, 2020-10-30 This book offers a revisionist account of poetry and embodiment from Milton to Romanticism Scholars have made much of the period's theories of matter with some studies equating the eighteenth century's modernity with its materialism Yet the Enlightenment in Britain also brought bold new arguments for the immateriality of spirit and evocative claims about an imminent spirit realm Protestant religious writing was of two minds about futurity swinging back and forth between patience for the resurrected body and desire for the released soul This ancient pattern carried over the book argues into understandings of poetry as a modern devotional practice A range of authors agreed that poems can provide a foretaste of the afterlife but they disagreed about what kind of future state the imagination should seek The mortalist impulse exemplified by John Milton and by Romantic poets Anna Letitia Barbauld and William Wordsworth is to overcome the temptation of disembodiment and to restore spirit to its rightful home in matter The spiritualist impulse driving eighteenth century verse by Mark Akenside Elizabeth Singer Rowe and Edward Young is to break out of bodily repetition and enjoy the detached soul's freedom in advance Although the study isolates these two tendencies each needed the other as a source in the Enlightenment and their productive opposition didn't end with Romanticism The final chapter identifies an alternative Romantic vision that keeps open the possibility of a disembodied poetics and the introduction considers present day Anglophone writers who put it into practice

The Atom in Seventeenth-century Poetry Cassandra Gorman, 2021 An investigation into the remarkable poetics of the atom in English literary texts from the mid to late seventeenth century

The early modern atom understood as an indivisible particle of matter captured the poetic imagination in ways that extended far beyond the reception of Lucretius and Epicurean atomism Contrarily to fears of atomisation and materialist threat many poets and philosophers of the period sought positive spiritual motivation in the concept of material indivisibility This book traces the metaphysical import of these poetic atoms teasing out an affinity between poetic and atomic forms in seventeenth century texts In the writings of Henry More Thomas Traherne Margaret Cavendish Hester Pulter and Lucy Hutchinson both atoms and poems were instrumental in acts of creating ordering and reconstructing knowledge Their poems emerge as exquisitely self conscious atomic forms producing intimate reflections on the creative power and indivisibility of self soul and God The book begins with a survey of the imaginative possibilities surrounding the early modern atom before considering the indivisible centres of the Cambridge Platonist Henry More's cosmic Spenserian poetics The focus then turns to the lyrical bond formed between atom and soul in the writings of Thomas Traherne and from there to the experimental sequences of Margaret Cavendish and Hester Pulter whose poetic spaces create new worlds and imagine alternative lives The book concludes with a study of Lucy Hutchinson's creation poem Order and Disorder which anticipates the regeneration of fallen being in atomic and alchemical terms
