Bodies and Souls, or Spirited Bodies? Nancey Murphy, 2006-01-12 Are humans composed of a body and a nonmaterial mind or soul or are we purely physical beings Opinion is sharply divided over this issue In this clear and concise book Nancey Murphy argues for a physicalist account but one that does not diminish traditional views of humans as rational moral and capable of relating to God This position is motivated not only by developments in science and philosophy but also by biblical studies and Christian theology The reader is invited to appreciate the ways in which organisms are more than the sum of their parts That higher human capacities such as morality free will and religious awareness emerge from our neurobiological complexity and develop through our relation to others to our cultural inheritance and most importantly to God Murphy addresses the questions of human uniqueness religious experience and personal identity before and after bodily resurrection

Souls, Bodies, Spirits Kerry N. Jacoby, 1998-04-23 Jacoby provides a comprehensive social history of the abortion abolition campaign from its beginnings following Roe v Wade through the 1996 elections She explores the abortion abolition effort historically sociologically theologically and politically arguing for a deepened understanding of American abortion opponents The history of the abortion abolition effort in America is examined through three different approaches to the understanding of collective behavior Beginning with the immediate post Roe period the movement is explored as a Catholic moral crusade and Jacoby analyzes why Catholic Americans were particularly prone to such activity as well as why otherwise theologically compatible Protestants were not She then examines the effort as a major social movement beginning around 1980 Finally the late 1980s development of direct action activity most notably in the form of Operation Rescue is viewed in light of its connection to the theology and expectations of religious revivalism In her conclusions Jacoby provides a new model for understanding faith based political action Students teachers and the general public will find this book a thorough comprehensive and accessible examination of the movement

Are We Bodies or Souls? Richard Swinburne, 2019-07-25 What are humans What makes us who we are Many think that we are just complicated machines or animals that are different from machines only by being conscious In Are We Bodies or Souls Richard Swinburne comes to the defence of the soul and presents new philosophical arguments that are supported by modern neuroscience When scientific advances enable neuroscientists to transplant a part of brain into a new body he reasons no matter how much we can find out about their brain activity or conscious experiences we will never know whether the resulting person is the same as before or somebody entirely new Swinburne thus argues that we are immaterial souls sustained in existence by our brains Sensations thoughts and intentions are conscious events in our souls that cause events in our brains While scientists might discover some of the laws of nature that determine conscious events and brain events each person's soul is an individual thing and this is what ultimately makes us who we are

Are We Bodies Or Souls? Richard Swinburne, 2019 What makes us human Richard Swinburne presents new philosophical arguments supported by modern neuroscience for the view that we are immaterial

Theological Anthropology Joshua R. Farris,2016-11-25 Recent research in the philosophy of religion anthropology and philosophy of mind has prompted the need for a more integrated comprehensive and systematic theology of human nature This project constructively develops a theological accounting of human persons by drawing from a Cartesian as a term of art model of anthropology which is motivated by a long tradition As was common among patristics medievals and Reformed Scholastics Farris draws from philosophical resources to articulate Christian doctrine as he approaches theological anthropology Exploring a substance dualism model the author highlights relevant theological texts and passages of Scripture arguing that this model accounts for doctrinal essentials concerning theological anthropology While Farris is not explicitly interested in thorough critique of materialist ontology he notes some of the significant problems associated with it Rather the present project is an attempt to revitalize the resources found in Cartesianism by responding to some common worries associated with it      Publications of the Narragansett Club: George Fox digg'd out of his burrowes Narragansett Club,1872

The Classical Weekly ,1920      The Collected Works Dionysius the Areopagite,2022-01-04 Dionysius the Areopagite or Pseudo Dionysius the Areopagite remains one of the most enigmatic figures of the early Christianity He was a Greek author Christian theologian and Neoplatonic philosopher of the late 5th to early 6th century who wrote a set of works known as the Corpus Areopagiticum or Corpus Dionysiacum The author pseudonymously identifies himself in the corpus as Dionysios portraying himself as Dionysius the Areopagite the Athenian convert of Paul the Apostle mentioned in Acts 17 34 This attribution to the earliest decades of Christianity resulted in the work being given great authority in subsequent theological writing in both the East and the West The Dionysian writings and their mystical teaching were universally accepted throughout the East amongst both Chalcedonians and non Chalcedonians and also had a strong impact in later medieval western mysticism most notably Meister Eckhart Its influence decreased in the West with the fifteenth century demonstration of its later dating but in recent decades interest has increased again in the Corpus Areopagiticum

Dyck,2019-12-12 Early Modern German Philosophy 1690 1750 makes some of the key texts of early German thought available in English in most cases for the first time The translations range from texts by the most important figures of the period including Christian Thomasius Christian Wolff Christian August Crusius and Georg Friedrich Meier as well as texts by consequential but less familiar thinkers such as Dorothea Christiane Erxleben Theodor Ludwig Lau Friedrich Wilhelm Stosch and Joachim Lange The topics covered range across a number of areas of theoretical philosophy including metaphysics the immortality of the soul materialism and its refutation the pre established harmony epistemology the principle of sufficient reason the limits of reason with respect to matters of faith and logic the role of prejudices in cognition and the doctrine of truth These texts are intended to showcase German philosophy in the early Modern period as a far richer tradition than it is typically given credit for and indeed as much more than either a footnote to Leibniz or merely a step on the way to Kant This collection is a valuable resource for students and scholars interested in the early modern German tradition and the often neglected works that enlightened it      The Universal Anthology Richard Garnett,Leon Vallée,Alois Brandl,1899      The Church Quarterly Review ,1920
