Introduction to Theology

Theology comes from the Greek words theos meaning “God,” and logos meaning “word”; hence, a word or discussion about God or simply the study of God. Theology can be understood to be the general study of Christian doctrine. It is the discovery, organization, and presentation of the truths about God.

In one sense, every person is a theologian since it is impossible to live life without giving some thought to God (Romans 1:18-32). Since no person can avoid theology, the issue is not whether we are going to be theologians, but whether we are going to be a good theologian or a bad theologian. To the degree that our beliefs and behavior align with God's will, as revealed in His Word, we will be good theologians. This must be the ultimate goal of the study of God.

❖ Do you strive to be a good theologian?

Types of Theology

There are four general categories of theology. Understanding these groupings will assist us in learning what people mean when speaking of theology.

1. Biblical Theology is the study of theology which considers the historical circumstances and development of a doctrine as God progressively revealed Himself through the ages. Biblical theology emphasizes the study of a particular era or writer. For example OT Theology, NT Theology, Pauline Theology, Petrine Theology, or Johannine Theology.
2. Historical Theology is the study of doctrine as it developed in stages by individuals or groups throughout church history focusing on what others throughout history have said. For example patristic theology, medieval theology, reformation theology, or modern theology.
3. Dogmatic Theology uses as its primary source the dogmas (creeds, statements of faith, or teachings) of particular groups. For example Calvinistic theology, Arminian theology, Catholic theology, or charismatic theology.
4. Systematic Theology is the study of theology by examining the totality of Scripture and presenting doctrines by coalescing the whole. It is a correlation of the total structure of biblical doctrine. This systematization of Bible doctrine is not found categorized in defined topics in the Bible but rather has developed over the years. In systematic theology all major doctrines can be grouped into approximately ten subcategories:
 - a. Bibliology – Doctrine of the Bible
 - b. Theology Proper – Doctrine of God including the Trinity and God the Father
 - c. Christology – Doctrine of Christ
 - d. Pneumatology – Doctrine of the Holy Spirit
 - e. Angelology – Doctrine of Angels, Satan, and Fallen Angels
 - f. Anthropology – Doctrine of Man
 - g. Hamartiology – Doctrine of Sin
 - h. Soteriology – Doctrine of Salvation
 - i. Ecclesiology – Doctrine of the Church
 - j. Eschatology – Doctrine of Last Things
