Radebe,Mogobe B. Ramose ,2023-06-28 African knowledge is yet to fully contribute to spaces of learning because of the disciplinary boundaries founded on Western separatist logic From an African epistemology knowledge is interconnected because of the cosmological understanding that the universe is one entity Bringing African knowledge into the academy requires a concerted effort to bring it of its own accord There have been commendable efforts by scholars in South Africa to bring African knowledge to higher education in ways that do not alter or re shape this knowledge to suit the dominant Euro American script This book aims to showcase such efforts This book makes interconnections of themes across disciplines The content produced in this book will ensure that literature will anchor the noble efforts to build African universities that deliberately centre African ways of knowing This book will be among the few publications that focus on Africanisation and decolonisation of knowledges as praxis We anticipate that this book will be recommended in various disciplines of social sciences in South African universities Pancasila and the Search for Identity and Modernity in Indonesian Society Darmaputera,2023-07-31 The Nature of Cities Michael Bennett,David W. Teague,2021-10-12 Cities are often thought to be separate from nature but recent trends in ecocriticism demand that we consider them as part of the total environment This new collection of essays sharpens the focus on the nature of cities by exploring the facets of an urban ecocriticism by reminding city dwellers of their place in ecosystems and by emphasizing the importance of this connection in understanding urban life and culture The editors both raised in small towns but now living in major urban areas are especially concerned with the sociopolitical construction of all environments both natural and manmade Following an opening interview with Andrew Ross exploring the general parameters of urban ecocriticism they present essays that explore urban nature writing city parks urban wilderness ecofeminism and the city and urban space The volume includes contributions on topics as wide ranging as the urban poetry of English writers from Donne to Gay the manufactured wildness of a gambling casino and the marketing of cosmetics to urban women by idealizing Third World naturalness These essays seek to reconceive nature and its cultural representations in ways that contribute to understanding the contemporary cityscape They explore the theoretical issues that arise when one attempts to adopt and adapt an environmental perspective for analyzing urban life The Nature of Cities offers the ecological component often missing from cultural analyses of the city and the urban perspective often lacking in environmental approaches to contemporary culture By bridging the historical gap between environmentalism cultural studies and urban experience the book makes a statement of lasting importance to the development of the ecocritical movement
