The New Feminism:

More Joy Than Rage Caryl Rivers, 1991 The New Feminism Natasha Walter, 1998 Where has British feminism gone Has it retreated into the academy did it burn out at Greenham Common has it emigrated to the United States Natasha Walter discovers that there is a new feminism right here and now in Britain It is alive and kicking and speaking in the voices of young British women In defining this new feminism Natasha Walter celebrates women's growing power casts aside the dogma of previous generations and argues that the old adage The Personal is Political does more harm than good Because above all this new feminism is frankly materialist Who cares about how women dress how they talk how they make love First feminism must deliver political power and economic equality With tremendous wit verve and intelligence THE NEW FEMINISM marks out fresh ground in feminist debate The New Feminist Literary Studies Jennifer Cooke, 2020-12-03 Presents essays by feminists of theory and literature that examine contemporary feminism and the most pressing issues of today The Fire This Time Vivien Labaton, Dawn Lundy Martin, 2004-05-18 Young feminists today are becoming activists on behalf of many causes beyond the classic and indispensable feminist ones of reproductive rights and equal pay for equal work In The Fire This Time Dawn Martin one of four founders of The Third Wave Foundation a multiracial multi issue and multicultural activist organization and Vivien Labaton its first executive director offer an exciting cross section of feminist voices that express new directions in activism identity and thought Ayana Bird dissects the role of black women in hip hop Joshua Breitbart and Ana Noguiera demonstrate how Indimedia can break the hold of the corporate media over the news and Jennifer Bleyer reviews the exhilarating power unleashed by the GirlZine movement Anna Kirkland's analysis of transsexual and transgendered people and the law is deeply thoughtful and Shireen Lee's piece on women technology and feminism envisions empowering prospects for women Ranging from media and culture to politics and globalization The Fire This Time is a call to new frontiers of activism and helps reinvent feminism for a new generation The New Feminist Movement Marion Lockwood Carden, 1974-04-23 The feminist movement has become an established force on the American political and social scene Both the small consciousness raising group and the large formal organization command the attention of our legislative bodies media and general public Maren Lockwood Carden's new book is the first to look beyond feminist ideas and rhetoric to give a detailed study of the movement its structure membership and history of the organizations that form a major part of present day feminism Fair objective and comprehensive her study is based on participant observation and in depth interviews with rank and file members and local and national leaders in seven representative cities during 1969-1971 In Dr Carden's analysis the movement has two divisions First the hundreds of small informal Women's Liberation consciousness raising and action groups Second the large formally structured Women's Rights organizations like the National Organization for Women NOW and the Women's Equity Action League For both types of organizations Dr Carden covers members reasons for participation organizational structure strategies and actions and the relationship between ideology and structure including the attempts by many groups to work as participatory democracies She also discusses the development of the movement from the mid sixties to the present and evaluates the long term prospects for achieving the objectives of the various new feminist groups Anyone interested in organizations personality and society and social change will welcome this detailed description and history of a complex and rapidly changing social movement Highly readable and free of technical jargon The New Feminist Movement tells us what s been happening to women in the last decade what they want now and where they may be headed in the future The New Feminist Agenda Madeleine Kunin,2012 Looking back over five decades of advocacy Kunin charts the course for the next feminist revolution one that mobilizes women and men to call for the kind of policies that can improve the lives of women and strengthen their families Voices of the New Feminism Mary Lou Thompson,1970 Women a bibliography by L Cisler p 217 246 The New Feminism Lucy Komisar,1971 The Changing Nature of Eco/Feminism Niamh Moore,2015-04-15 In the summer of 1993 activists set up a peace camp blocking a logging road into an extensive area of temperate rainforest in Clayoquot Sound that was slated for clear cutting Twenty odd years later Clayoquot holds a prominent place in environmental discourse yet it is not generally associated with feminist or eco feminist movements The Changing Nature of Eco Feminism argues that Clayoquot offers a potent site for examining a whole range of feminist issues Through a careful study of eco feminist activism against clear cut logging practices in British Columbia the book explores how a transnational eco feminist practice insisted on an account of logging situated in histories of colonialism holding the Canadian state to account for its deforestation practices Moore demonstrates that the sheer vitality of eco feminist politics at the Peace Camp in the summer of 1993 confounded dominant narratives of contemporary feminism and has re imagined eco feminist politics for new times The New Feminism in Twentieth-century America June Sochen,1971
