An Image Darkly Forming Bani Shorter, 2015-08-11 Originally published in 1987 a well known Jungian analyst the late Bani Shorter writes here about how women are initiated into becoming themselves Her book was an important contribution to the field of analytical psychology at the time as well as to the increasingly popular study of women s spirituality In former times transitions from one stage of life to another were prepared for and marked by ritual initiation in modern times this necessity is overlooked and women s natural development is made more difficult as a consequence Through working in close therapeutic relationships with women Bani Shorter found that when challenged by crises and transitions in their lives today s women instinctively create rituals nevertheless to mark their journey towards maturation wholeness and meaning In this process they discover something of who they are and recognise dimensions of themselves which have been previously repressed and undreamed of The stories unfolded here can be a guide for all women through their own rites of passage

Fear of Jung Theo A. Cope,2018-04-17 The current neuroscientific research in the field of emotion studies highlights a paradigm of scientific research that must be categorized as functional science As functional science the neuroscientific theory of the neuron doctrine combined with a Jungian theory of the complex doctrine hold significant potential for a natural human science and a psychological study of affectivity Though researchers utilize psychological constructs similar to those proposed by Carl Jung there appears to be a fear of Jung that is a professional fear of invoking Jung s name or his psychological research One familiar with Jung s works notice similar terminology ideas and even conclusions The marginalization and neglect of Jung s psychological insights from a serious empirical scientific approach to psychology is due to many factors Jung did not reduce psychological experience to the body or brain a reductive science does not consider seriously the reality of the psyche This work is an initial contribution to a psychological and neurological study of personal emotional experience Understanding Suicide's Allure Stanley Krippner,Linda Riebel,Debbie Joffe Ellis,Daryl S. Shelburne,1988-07-08 The author explores and defends the bold thesis that the idea of the collective unconscious can be reconciled with a scientific world outlook as he sketches a big picture from Jung s psychological viewpoint In his examination of Jung s archetypes Shelburne considers the chief critical views of the scientific import of Jung s thesis as he discusses the issue of rationality posed by the theory There is also a discussion of how the ideas of James Hillman contrast with those of Jung on the issue of the scientific nature of archetypes Shelburne presents scientific evidence for the existence of archetypes and shows how the theory fits in with modern evolutionary biology
