Terranova,2015-10-10 In this groundbreaking book Charissa Terranova unearths a forgotten narrative of modernism which charts the influence that biology General Systems Theory and cybernetics had on art in the twentieth century From kinetic and interactive art to early computer art and installations spanning an entire city she shows that the digital image was a rich and expansive artistic medium of modernism This book links the emergence of the digital image to the dispersion of biocentric aesthetic philosophies developed by Bauhaus pedagogue Laszlo Moholy Nagy from 1920s Berlin to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the 1970s It uncovers seminal but overlooked references to biology the organism feedback loops emotions and the Gestalt along with an intricate genealogy of related thinkers across disciplines Terranova interprets anew major art movements such as the Bauhaus Op Art and Experiments in Art and Technology E A T by referencing contemporary insights from architects embryologists electrical engineers and computer scientists among others This book reveals the complex connections between visual culture science and technology that comprise the deep history of twentieth century art Data Visualization for Design Thinking Winifred E. Blakinger,2019-06-25 How Gyorgy Kepes the last disciple of Bauhaus modernism became the single most significant artist within a network of scientific experts and elites Gyorgy Kepes 1906 2001 was the last disciple of Bauhaus modernism an acolyte of L szl Moholy Nagy and a self styled revolutionary artist But by midcentury transplanted to

America Kepes found he was trapped in the military industrial aesthetic complex In this first book length study of Kepes John Blakinger argues that Kepes by opening the research laboratory to the arts established a new paradigm for creative practice the artist as technocrat First at Chicago s New Bauhaus and then for many years at MIT Kepes pioneered interdisciplinary collaboration between the arts and sciences what he termed interthinking and interseeing Kepes and his colleagues ranging from metallurgists to mathematicians became part of an important but little explored constellation the Cold War avant garde Blakinger traces Kepes s career in the United States through a series of episodes Kepes s work with the military on camouflage techniques his development of a visual design pedagogy as seen in the exhibition The New Landscape and his book The New Landscape in Art and Science his encyclopedic Vision Value series his unpublished magnum opus the Light Book the Center for Advanced Visual Studies CAVS an art science research institute established by Kepes at MIT in 1967 and the Center s proposals for massive environmental installations that would animate the urban landscape CAVS was entangled in the antiwar politics of the late 1960s as many students and faculty protested MIT s partnerships with defense contractors some of whom had ties to the Center In attempting to undream the Bauhaus into existence in the postwar world Kepes faced profound resistance Generously illustrated drawing on the vast archive of Kepes s papers at Stanford and MIT s CAVS Special Collection this book supplies a missing chapter in our understanding of midcentury modern and Cold War visual culture

Genealogy of Popular Science Jesús Muñoz Morcillo, Caroline Y. Robertson-von Trotha, 2020-10-27 Despite the efforts of modern scholars to explain the origins of science communication as a social rhetorical and aesthetic phenomenon most researchers approach the popularization of science from the perspective of present issues thus ignoring its historical roots in classical culture along with its continuities disruptions and transformations This volume fills this research gap with a genealogically reflected introduction into the popularization of science as a recurrent cultural technique The category popular science is elucidated in interdisciplinary and diachronic dialogue discussing case studies from all historical periods Classicists archaeologists medievalists art historians sociologists and historians of science provide the first diachronic and multi layered approach to the rhetoric techniques aesthetics and societal conditions that have shaped the dissemination and reception of scientific knowledge
