

Seven Learning Conditions Measured by the Ascend Survey

Research is clear: When students' learning environments help them feel competent, valued, respected, connected to others, and supported in their learning, students are more likely to engage in behaviors that support academic achievement, and this in turn supports greater retention in college and degree attainment.

PERTS Ascend is a data-driven professional learning program that enables college instructors and administrators to measure how their students are experiencing courses and what they can do to make those experiences more equitable, more engaging, and more supportive of student success.
