Cape Bretoniana Beaton Institute of Cape Breton Studies, 2005-01-01 Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island is a beautiful region with a unique community whose history and ethnic composition have resulted in the evolution of a powerful sense of identity and place. While outsiders may think only of the island's perennial economic woes and long economic dependence on coal mining and steel production, it is also the home of a rich, vibrant and distinct culture. Brian Douglas Tennyson's Cape Bretoniana is the first bibliography to gather together all known publications relating to the history, culture, economy and politics of Cape Breton Island. With more than 6000 entries, it not only provides a comprehensive listing of publications and post graduate theses but also detailed annotations on the listings. Each entry lists the author, title, place of publication, publisher, date of publication, volume and issue number in the case of periodicals, and page references followed by a brief description of the item. Cape Breton has never been so thoroughly documented. This bibliography will help to ensure that even in a world becoming increasingly homogenized by the forces of globalization, unique cultural identities like Cape Breton's can be preserved and nurtured.

Agnes Macphail and the Politics of Equality Terence Allan Crowley, 1990

Passing years have only added new lustre to the figure of Agnes Macphail, Canada's first woman MP. In this biography, Terry Crowley offers a heroine for our times with the depiction of Macphail, the accomplished politician, the committed feminist, and the complex, well-rounded, witty human being. A democratic populist who emerged politically during the post-World War One farmers' revolt, Macphail helped build the alliance that became the CCF party and ended the two major parties' total domination of national political life. She later served the CCF as Ontario's first woman MPP. In all her activities, Macphail was an outspoken advocate of equality and human rights. She worked tirelessly to win recognition of women's rights, to reform the nation's penal system, and to secure international peace. She pressed for controls on lobbying and for disclosure of business influences on the media. Strong convictions, openness to fresh ideas, and devotion to democratic values were Macphail's distinguishing characteristics.

Adult Learners, Education and Training Richard Edwards, Sandy Sieminski, David Zeldin, 2014-06-03

In recent years, economic and demographic changes have brought into question the adequacy of initial education programmes for continuous employment. While the primary focus of debate has been on creating structures of continuous education and training linked to the economic needs of Britain, arguments and movements for wider access to all forms of learning have continued to be made. Drawing on the experience of other European countries as well as Britain, this book addresses the three major themes of the ongoing debates: who participates in what forms of education and training, and how can access be widened and increased; the relationship between economic development, education and training; the education and training developed by social movements and the changes sought in the formal sector of provision.
