The Reader is divided into four parts: Theories and methodologies of the history of childhood; Constructions of childhood in different times and places; Children's experiences in different times and places; and Usage of the past to articulate solutions to problems facing children today. Topics covered include theories and methodologies in the global history of childhood; sources for writing a global history of childhood; education; gender; disability; race; class; and religion; the individual in history; and emotions, violence, labour, and illiteracy.
