Thai Textiles British Museum:

Ganga to Mekong Hema Devare, 2025-10-27 Textiles have been the binding factor in the cultural history of India and Southeast Asia from times immemorial As the foremost currency they were carried by the traders from the banks of river Ganga to the fertile areas around the river Mekong and to the rich spice islands of Suvarnadvipa Indonesia Over the centuries these textiles turned into vehicles of culture that built the foundation for an enduring multi layered and multi coloured relationship The painted textiles from the Coromandel coast the block printed fabrics and the doubleikat patola from Gujarat enticed Southeast Asian royalty and masses alike These trade textiles considered ritually powerful and imbued with magical qualities played an integral role in binding India with Southeast Asia while becoming a part of the regional folklore ceremonies and rituals Over time they were seamlessly assimilated into the local culture This cultural amalgam was here to stay as solid as the rocks of Borobudur and Konark and as intricately woven as the double ikat patola which is the cultural legacy of India in Southeast Asia

The Cambridge Global History of Fashion: Volume 1 Christopher Breward, Beverly Lemire, Giorgio Riello, 2023-08-17 Volume I surveys the long history of fashion from the ancient world to c 1800 The volume seeks to answer fundamental questions on the origins of fashion challenging Eurocentric explanations that the emergence of fashion was a European phenomenon and shows instead that fashion found early expressions across the globe well before the age of European colonialism and imperialism It sheds light on how fashion was experienced in a multitude of ways depending on class gender and race and despite geographical distance fashion connected populations across the globe Fashions flowered and were reseeded through entanglements of empire forced and voluntary migration evolving racial systems burgeoning sea travel and transcontinental systems

The Commercialized Crafts of Thailand Erik Cohen, 2000-07-01 This volume brings together two decades of research into the process of commercialization of the folk crafts of Thailand the conditions of its emergence the parties involved in its development the changes in the processes and organization of production which accompany it the channels through which commercialized craft products are marketed the nature of the audiences which they reach and the transformations in appearance and meaning which the products undergo as a result of their commercialization Each chapter deals with a specific issue in a particular context but virtually all of them relate to one or another of these principal aspects of the process of commercialization Part I explores the commercialization of hill tribe textiles particularly those of the Hmong refugees from Laos Part II presents a series of case studies of the various ways in which the products of lowland Thai craft villages became commercialized
