Stella Adler and more Reminiscences Franz Leichter, 2023-03-27 Franz Leichter's Reminiscences: An Autobiography begins when he is smuggled out of Nazi occupied Austria as his caretaker's son. Escaping the Holocaust, he arrived in the United States as a refugee at age ten with his father and older brother. His mother was murdered by the Nazis. The family had no means of support and spoke no English. Embracing his new country, Franz worked his way through Swarthmore College and Harvard Law School. He became politically active and was elected to the New York State Legislature with the backing of First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt and Governor Herbert Lehman. As a Senator, Franz exposed the reemergence of sweatshops and sought their closure. He disclosed real estate moguls' large contributions to New York City's elected officials who voted on their projects. He sponsored New York's groundbreaking abortion rights law in 1969 and fought for its passage in 1970, which was followed three years later by the Supreme Court's landmark decision in Roe v. Wade. Franz earned a reputation as a maverick and the conscience of the Legislature. During this time, he maintained an active law practice that took him to Europe, Asia, and South America. Later, he was chosen by Presidents Bill Clinton and George W. Bush to be a Director of the Federal Housing Finance Board. Franz has lived in New York City since 1940. He has two children and four grandchildren. The Selected Writings of James Weldon Johnson: Social, political, and literary essays James Weldon Johnson, 1995 These two volumes of writings represent Johnson's experiences as one of black America's premier civil rights statesmen and leader, participant and historian of the Black Literary Movement of the 1920s. The Twist James E. Causey, 2011-09-12 Travon Brown lives the life most 28-year-olds can only dream. He's charismatic, established in his career, and popular with the ladies. At a bachelor party for his frat brother, Travon meets Angel, a curvaceous dancer who appears to be a novice in the hardcore world of seduction. When the two talk about their lives, they realize that they have a lot more in common than just physical attraction. They share an explosive moment that leaves them both wanting more. But when Travon gets into a scuffle with Angel's boss, it sets off a chain reaction that leads to an all-out war between two headstrong strip club owners. It isn't until later that Travon realizes the consequences of his one-night stand. Will the war between the others extinguish their chances, or will the heat of their affair be enough to rekindle the fire. The Light of Truth Ida B. Wells, 2014-11-25 The broadest and most comprehensive collection of writings available by an early civil and women's rights pioneer. Seventy-one years before Rosa Parks's courageous act of resistance, police dragged a young black journalist named Ida B. Wells off a train for refusing to give up her seat. The experience shaped Wells's career, and when hate crimes touched her life personally, she mounted what was to become her life's work: an anti-lynching crusade that captured international attention. This volume covers the entire scope of Wells's remarkable career, collecting her early writings, articles exposing the horrors of lynching, essays from her travels abroad, and her later journalism. The Light of Truth is both an invaluable resource for study and a testament to Wells's long career as a civil rights activist.
