David Perkins, 1976 This book embraces an era of enormous creative variety the formative period during which the Romantic traditions of the past were abandoned or transformed and a major new literature created More than a hundred poets are treated in this volume and many more are noticed in passing The White Mage Doesn't Want to Raise the Hero's Level Vol.

1 Kirie, 2024-01-09 Irie Izumi has been summoned to another world to fulfill his heroic destiny He quickly meets and forms a party with Level 20 white mage Shina who falls in love with him at first sight When Irie succeeds in his quest he will be transported home but Shina isn't about to let her Lord Hero get away so easily What's a girl to do except dress so lewdly that even a great hero of destiny can't pay attention to the battles before him and can't level up Seeing Perception Silke

Horstkotte, Karin Leonhard, 2021-02-19 What do we see when we see how do we perceive vision itself and how do we speak and write about seeing and perception The articles collected in this volume attempt to observe the constitution of perception be it of a visual field or visible objects but also of images which emerge in the mind e.g. that of the reader in the act of reading The act of vision is profoundly impure and seeing very much entails other modes of sense based perception such as listening touching feeling tasting or smelling Various modes of seeing can moreover be observed within literary texts or in music dreams memory or all kinds of bodily experiences like dance pain sexuality etc so that there cannot be any such thing as a clearly defined realm called visuality Moreover seer and seen are mutually permeable in any visual practice reflecting on the reciprocal relationship between the visuality of objects and the very act of looking which could be understood not only as a sensual experience but also as an interaction an intellectual performance and interpretation But if there exists this inseparable bond between object and spectator how can we distance ourselves from the act of looking and show seeing how is it possible to talk and write about seeing perception The impurity of the visual and the contextuality of all acts of looking constitutes a common thread running through the articles collected in this volume The ways in which images are perceived in Western culture are inextricably linked with verbal and textual structures and ways of thinking However the contributions in this volume are less concerned with the practical political implications of a visual culture which formed the backbone of visual studies research a few years ago and more with an adequate understanding of the various concepts and operations at work in theories of visual perception of seeing the gaze and of focalisation

Bloodied Banners Robert W. Jones, 2010
Groundbreaking reassessment of the role played by armour weapons and heraldry in medieval warfare showing their cultural as well as military significance A penetrating investigation of medieval martial display The reader is struck by its originality and by its sophisticated and critical interpretative engagement with historical and literary sources Particularly notable is the author's subtle exploration of the function of armour not only its practical role but as a form of display A refreshingly different approach to the world of the medieval combatant and his place within that host of many colours that was a medieval army it adds a new dimension to our understanding of medieval warfare Dr ANDREW AYTON Senior Lecturer in History University of Hull The medieval battlefield was a place of spectacle and splendour The fully armed knight bedecked in his vivid heraldic colours mounted on his great charger riding out beneath his brightly painted banner is a stock image of war and the warrior in the middle ages Yet too often the significance of such display has been ignored or dismissed as the empty preening of a militaristic social elite Drawing on a broad range of source material and using innovative historical approaches this book completely re-evaluates the way that such men and their weapons were viewed showing that martial display was a vital part of the way in which war was waged in the middle ages It maintains that heraldry and livery served not only to advertise a warrior's family and social ties but also announced his presence on the battlefield and right to wage war It also considers the physiological and psychological effect of wearing armour both on the wearer and those facing him in combat arguing that the need for display in battle was deeper than any medieval cultural construct and was based in the fundamental biological drives of threat and warning ROBERT W JONES gained his PhD from Cardiff University
