The Hearts Geographer:

Geography Of The Heart Fenton Johnson, 2011-02-15 Poignant and affectionate Geography of the Heart is a moving portrait of Lambda Award winner Fenton Johnson the son of a Kentucky whiskey brewer and his fateful lover Larry Rose who three years into their intense relationship died of AIDS Rose had been upfront about his condition from the start of his relationship with Johnson and the knowledge left their interactions fraught with the pain of anticipated loss Though Johnson never contracted the virus himself Rose's physical decline haunted him He had come to depend on Rose for his care and understanding as much as Rose increasingly fragile as their relationship progresses depended on him The vivid poignant and wise tribute to his soulmate that Johnson has distilled into The Geography of the Heart is a memoir like no other a startling story of compassion perseverance and the acute wounds that can linger in the shadow of true love Geographic

Information Science at the Heart of Europe Danny Vandenbroucke, Bénédicte Bucher, Joep Crompvoets, 2013-05-13 For the seventh consecutive year the AGILE promotes the publication of a book collecting high level scientific papers from unpublished fundamental scientific research in the field of Geographic Information Science As the agenda for Europe 2020 is currently being set this book demonstrates how geographic information science is at the heart of Europe The contributions open perspectives for innovative services that will strengthen our European economy and which will inform citizens about their environment while preserving their privacy The latest challenges of spatial data infrastructures are addressed such as the connection with the Web vocabularies or the representation of genealogy User generated data through social networks or through interactive cameras and software is also an important breakthrough in our domain A trend to deal more and more with time events ancient data and activities is noticeable this year as well This volume collects the 23 best full papers presented during the 16th AGILE Conference on Geographic Information Science held between 14 and 17 May 2013 in Leuven Belgium Lovescapes, Mapping the Geography of Love Duncan S. Ferguson, 2012-12-06 Lovescapes introduces the reader to the various meanings and manifestations of love and its many cognates such as compassion caring altruism empathy and forgiveness It addresses how love and compassion have been understood in history and the religions of the world It goes on to explore the ways that our environments and heredity influence our capacity to love and suggests ways to cultivate love and compassion in one's life The book shows how the values of love and compassion are integral to finding humane solutions to the daunting problems we face as individuals as a human family and as an earth community a world in crisis Lovescapes has the following features Describing how love is the essence of the divine and therefore the ground of reality Understanding the meaning of love and its place in our lives Learning how love and compassion have been understood across history culture and tradition Gaining insight about how to increase our capacity to love and show compassion Discerning how love and compassion can be applied in all aspects of our lives in the regions where we live and in our global setting Geographers Hayden Lorimer, Charles W. J. Withers, 2015-12-14 The thirtieth volume of Geographers

Biobibliographical Studies adds significantly to the corpus of scholarship on geography's multiple histories and biographies with nine essays on figures from Britain France the USA and Spain Each was distinguished in his or her own scholarship and made distinctive contributions in specific fields as historical political or population geographers and in one case as a hydrologist geomorphologist The subjects also shared a commitment to the educational benefits of geography and of geographical research that was rooted in a vision of geography as socially illuminating and individually life changing Here is further rich testimony of the importance of geographers' lives to the lived experience of geography in practice

Geography and Geographers Ron Johnston, James Sidaway, 2015-12-22 Explores the relationship between human and physical geography All chapters updated in the new edition to reflect new literature and changes in the discipline Chapter One systematically considers representations of geographical thought The closing chapter develops an explicit argument about what has made human geography distinctive Draws on a wide reading of the geographical literature produced during a fifty year period characterised by both growth in the number of academic geographers and substantial shifts in conceptions of the discipline's scientific rationale

Making Geography Matter Noel Castree, Trevor Barnes, Jennifer Salmond, 2025-02-28 What is the purpose of Geography What do geographers study and why How do they seek to shape the world they interrogate This book addresses these questions by examining the lives and works of individual geographers both past and present Like all disciplines Geography is no more nor less than the collective endeavours of researchers and teachers operating in specific contexts The contexts both shape and are shaped by these individuals This book's biographical and autobiographical chapters transport readers to the times and places where geographers have sought to make Geography matter The result is a more vivid grounded understanding of the discipline than the many high level surveys of geographic thought paradigms currently written for university students This book's accessible essays each conclude with a study task Making Geography Matter is aimed at university students and their teachers who wish to understand the goals history and evolving practice of Geography It provides an alternative perspective both concrete and engaging to the many student focussed texts that map out numerous isms and ologies

Geographic Thought Tim Cresswell, 2024-02-05 An accessible and engaging introduction to geographic thought In the newly expanded Second Edition of Geographic Thought A Critical Introduction renowned scholar Tim Cresswell delivers a thoroughly up to date and accessible examination of the major thinkers and key theoretical developments in the field Coverage of the complete range of the development of theoretical knowledge from ancient geography to contemporary theory appears alongside treatments of the influence of Darwin and Marx the emergence of anarchist geographies the impact of feminism and myriad other central bodies of thought This latest edition also includes new chapters on physical geography and theory postcolonialism and decoloniality and black geographies The author emphasizes the importance of geographic thought and its relevance to our understanding of what it means to be human and to the people places and cultures of the world in which we live This new edition contains New examples throughout consisting of contemporary research from a wider range of geographical contexts and by geographers from diverse backgrounds Comprehensive explorations of physical geography that combine updated coverage from the first edition with brand new material Updated discussions of spatial science and quantitative methods that include considerations of the role of place and specificity in quantitative work In depth examinations of the Anthropocene the uses of assemblage theory and the emergence of the GeoHumanities Perfect for students of undergraduate and graduate courses in geographic thought Geographic Thought A Critical Introduction will also earn a place in the libraries of students and scholars researching the history and philosophy of geography as well as practicing geographers

The Geography of Gandhāran Art Wannaporn Rienjang, Peter Stewart, 2019-03-15 Gandhāran art is usually regarded as a single phenomenon a unified regional artistic tradition or school Indeed it has distinctive visual characteristics materials and functions and is characterized by its extensive borrowings from the Graeco Roman world Yet this tradition is also highly varied Even the superficial homogeneity of Gandhāran sculpture which constitutes the bulk of documented artistic material from this region in the early centuries AD belies a considerable range of styles technical approaches iconographic choices and levels of artistic skill The geographical variations in Gandhāran art have received less attention than they deserve Many surviving Gandhāran artefacts are unprovenanced and the difficulty of tracing substantial assemblages of sculpture to particular sites has obscured the fine grained picture of its artistic geography Well documented modern excavations at particular sites and areas such as the projects of the Italian Archaeological Mission in the Swat Valley have demonstrated the value of looking at sculptures in context and considering distinctive aspects of their production use and reuse within a specific locality However insights of this kind have been harder to gain for other areas including the Gandhāran heartland of the Peshawar basin Even where large collections of artworks can be related to individual sites the exercise of comparing material within and between these places is still at an early stage The relationship between the Gandhara artists or workshops particular stone sources and specific sites is still unclear Addressing these and other questions this second volume of the Gandhara Connections project at Oxford University's Classical Art Research Centre presents the proceedings of a workshop held in March 2018 Its aim is to pick apart the regional geography of Gandhara art presenting new discoveries at particular sites textual evidence and the challenges and opportunities of exploring Gandhara's artistic geography
