Indonesia Textile is a rich multidisciplinary area of study and in fact has attracted a great deal of attention and numerous contributions from non textile scientists It is not just about clothing It is all about material and all aspects that are inherent in the process of its production and applications It covers a whole lot of area which includes but not limited to advanced material and textile fibers natural fibers and natural dyes utilization of natural sources for textiles in general and or functional textiles environmental protection and ecological considerations in textile industry life cycle analysis clean green production best practices in energy efficient processes bio based polymer bioengineering nanotechnology textile based composites industrial management and engineering traditional textiles and batik textile preservation and conservation and design Smart functional and interactive textile is another area of interest which is quite recent and resulted from the convergence of latest developments in material science physics and chemistry microelectronics and informatics Stimuli responsive materials self healing polymers textile energy devices textile sensor and antenna are only a few examples of development in this area Recently added to this is a new emerging fashionable technology It is a new concept that brings fashion to the next level by integrating technology and fashion It looks at the future fashion as intersection of design fashion science and technology beyond wearable technology Still another important and interesting issue in textile is sustainability especially due to the stigma associated with the industry as the big polluter and being not environmentally friendly Sustainable textiles and clothing involves the choice of materials technologies and processing methods that ensure environmental and social friendliness and safety to human health throughout the entire life cycle phases Thus there is an ample room for almost everyone to contribute in this conference On behalf of the Organizing Committee and the management of Politeknik STTT Bandung have a productive and fruitful conference

The Political Economy of the World Trading System : WTO and Beyond Bernard Hoekman, Michel Kostecki, 2001-07-19 The creation of the World Trade Organization WTO in 1995 ushered in a new era in world trading arrangements Building on the General Agreement on Trades and Tariffs GATT the intergovernmental treaty that for 50 years had regulated international trade relations the WTO is a global organization of equal standing to the International Monetary Fund and the World Bank and will set the agenda for international trade for decades to come The authors of this volume were heavily involved in the Uruguay Round of GATT negotiations that laid the foundations for the creation of the WTO and were ideally placed to see how the politics of negotiation affects the economics of trade The Political Economy of the World Trading System is the first comprehensive and accessible introduction to the institutional mechanics economics and politics of the global trading networks It goes beyond description of the rules of the WTO to analyse the political and economic forces that sculpted them the incentives for countries to abide by them and the likely future direction of the organization The authors show how governments are not necessarily the social welfare maximizing entities often found in textbooks but instead develop policy subject to the pressures of a variety of interest groups Although economic theory suggests that countries should pursue liberal trade policies and exchange goods and services on the basis of their comparative advantage in practice most nations actively intervene in international trade The political economy approach taken in this volume explains how the WTO functions why GATT has been very successful in reducing tariffs and why it has proven much more difficult to expand the reach of multilateral disciplines to domestic policies impacting on trade This book will increase the reader s understanding of international economics business and international relations by supplying in depth insider knowledge of how trade negotiations take place how this decision making affects trade policy and how the multilateral arrangements that shape world trade are created This information is crucial to understand why WTO rules are phrased as they are and to understand the processes by which business organizations industrial associations and political lobbies influence the multilateral trading system In this expanded and thoroughly revised edition the authors have taken account of the recent developments in international trade relations included an extra chapter on the historical importance of international trading arrangements and updated all the references and guides to further reading
