The Absentee American Repatriates Perspectives On America:

The Absentee American Carolyn D. Smith, 1991-10-30 During the 1950s and 1960s increasing numbers of American citizens were stationed in foreign countries and a whole generation of American children grew up abroad As the interdependence of nations increases new generations of Absentee Americans will be raised outside the United States Based on interviews and questionnaire responses this unique volume describes the impact of overseas living on Americans who spent at least some of their formative years in countries other than the United States It touches on a wide range of subjects such as schooling living arrangements social life abroad and the experience of reentry into the United States and it also provides a comprehensive view of the distinctive opinions shared by these global nomads By exploring the lives and experiences of repatriates the author emphasizes the need for increased intercultural contact and for educational programs that prepare young Americans to better understand the United States as part of the world community This work will be of interest to sociologists and psychologists as well as to Absentee Americans themselves and to managers of public and private institutions with an international or intercultural dimension The Absentee American Carolyn D. Smith, 1994 Overseas American Gene H. Bell-Villada, 2005 A moving exploration of what it means to be an American born and reared abroad

Troubling American Women Stacilee Ford, 2011-03-01 American women have lived in Hong Kong and in neighboring Macao for nearly two centuries Many were changed by their encounter with Chinese life and British colonialism Their openness to new experiences set them apart while their pedagogical impulse gave them a reputation for outspokenness that troubled others Drawing on memoirs diaries newspapers films and other texts Stacilee Ford tells the stories of several American women and explores how through dramatically changing times they communicated their notions of national identity and gender Troubling American Women is a lively and provocative study of cross cultural encounters between the Hong Kong and the US and use of stereotypes of American womanhood in Hong Kong popular culture Stacilee Ford has lived in Hong Kong for 18 years She teaches history and American studies at the University of Hong Kong Citizenship as a Challenge, 2021-11-29 Citizenship is one of the most important legacies of human development It raises the human status from a biological condition into a cultural moral political and rationalistic one It is a constantly evolving process which at each new turn adds complexity to human existence After the breakthroughs of the eighteenth century with the first steps in recognition of civil and political rights and of the twentieth century with the advancement of social rights and the emergence of cultural and environmental rights one could conclude that the twenty first century would see an enlargement of citizenship ideas and ideals Has this indeed happened Where are we now when it comes to identifying ourselves as citizens Varying across several disciplines this volume addresses the complexities of citizenship and our attempts to make sense of them

Third Culture Kids Ettie Zilber, 2009 The concept of Third Culture Kids TCKs children who follow their globetrotting parents around the world is not a new one and has been widely studied However there is one specific group of TCKs who have until now been largely ignored EdKids the children of international school educators In this new work Dr Ettie Zilber brings together all the material she has collected over many years of research on this unique group and allows them to voice their own opinions feelings and stories for the first time Spanning a long career in education Dr Ettie Zilber has served at international schools and other educational centers in the US Israel Singapore Spain Guatemala and China served on the boards of ECIS and AISH presented and published on cross cultural themes and served as an Adjunct Professor for Lehigh University and Endicott College teaching courses in Comparative Education and Intercultural Communication Childhood and Adolescence Uwe P. Gielen,Jaipaul L. Roopnarine,2016-01-11 This comprehensive reference analyzes psychological and anthropological studies concerning child and adolescent development across cultures digging into often forgotten topics like street children child soldiers and parenting in war torn countries Traditionally research on child and adolescent development has focused on American youth inadvertently neglecting 96 percent of the world s children This all encompassing volume introduces global perspectives on young people across the globe focusing on such topics as parenting and childcare gender roles violence against girls adolescence in poor and rich countries and developmental psychopathology across cultures Recently updated the second edition includes the latest findings in the field additional content and new photos and charts With contributions from leading psychological and anthropological scholars chapters address worldwide changes in children s lives parent child relationships sibling relationships immigrant children and their families and adolescents in both industrialized and developing nations A special section discusses children living in difficult circumstances including street children child soldiers global nomads and children suffering from various internalizing and externalizing disorders This book is the perfect introduction to the latest trends in developmental psychology

Military Life Thomas W. Britt,Carl Andrew Castro,Amy B. Adler,2005-12-30 With global commitments and combat duty our armed forces face life threatening challenges on a daily basis However less visible threats also impact the mental health of our military men and women Experts examine challenges on the battlefield such as women coming to terms with life after being prisoners of war or soldiers dealing with mistakenly killing civilians But life in the armed forces presents less dramatic daily challenges Away from the front lines soldiers have to raise their families sometimes as single parents Children have to learn what it s like to be in a military family and to make sense of war Gay or lesbian officers cope with a don t ask don t tell policy An unprecedented range of contributors military officers medical doctors psychologists psychiatrists and professors take us onto the bases and the battlefields and inside the minds of military personnel who face far greater challenges than most of us ever see in the headlines These volumes also highlight factors that make members of the military resilient and stable as well as programs and practices that can ease the psychological burdens of military personnel families and children Readers can better understand how society views our military and military operations and how each one of us can play a role in supporting our armed forces of Educators in International Schools Ettie Zilber, 2009-11-16 The concept of the Third Culture Kids (TCKs) children who follow their globetrotting parents around the world is not a new one and has been widely studied. However, there is one specific group of TCKs who have until now been largely ignored: EdKids, the children of international school educators.
