James W. Taylor

The 2nd Royal Irish Rifles In The Great War:

The 2nd Royal Irish Rifles in the Great War James W. Taylor, 2005 Following his acclaimed The 1st Royal Irish Rifles in the Great War James Taylor now completes his study of the regiment's Regular battalions Having been part of 3rd Division in the original Expeditionary Force they fought at places such as Mons Le Cateau the Aisne La Bass e Somme Messines and Bellewaarde ending the war as part of 36th Ulster Division They suffered in excess of 1 400 fatalities including men from every county in Ireland The book gives biographical details on over 320 officers and some other ranks In addition to the awards and casualty lists details are given of the 269 men who were court martialled including a transcript of the trial of the only member to be executed The Irish regiments in the Great War Timothy Bowman, 2013-07-19 The British army was almost unique among the European armies of the Great War in that it did not suffer from a serious breakdown of discipline or collapse of morale It did however inevitably suffer from disciplinary problems While attention has hitherto focused on the 312 notorious shot at dawn cases many thousands of British soldiers were tried by court martial during the Great War This book provides the first comprehensive study of discipline and morale in the British Army during the Great War by using a case study of the Irish regular and Special Reserve battalions In doing so Timothy Bowman demonstrates that breaches of discipline did occur in the Irish regiments but in most cases these were of a minor nature Controversially he suggests that where executions did take place they were militarily necessary and served the purpose of restoring discipline in failing units Bowman also shows that there was very little support for the emerging Sinn Fein movement within the Irish regiments This book will be essential reading for military and Irish historians and their students and will interest any general reader concerned with how units maintain discipline and morale under the most trying conditions The History of the First Seven Battalions, the Royal Irish Rifles (now the Royal Ulster Rifles) in the Great War Cyril Falls, 1925 The 1st Royal Irish Rifles in the Great War James W. Taylor, 2002 In addition to its narrative the book gives biographical details on nearly 300 officers including medical officers and chaplains this information unfortunately generally is not available for the enlisted men A series of appendices complete the picture Apart from the awards and casualty lists there are details of the 301 men who were court martialled including a transcript of the trial of the only member to be executed Jacket History of the Royal Irish Rifles. By Lieut-Colonel George Brenton Lawrie. (vol. 2. The History of the First Seven Battalions, the Royal Irish Rifles, Now the Royal Ulster Rifles, in the Great War. By Cyril Falls.) [With Plates and Maps.]. Great Britain. Army. Infantry. Regiments. Royal Irish Rifles, afterwards Royal Ulster Rifles, Cyril Bentham FALLS, George Brenton LAURIE, 1914 Irish Voices from the Great War Myles Dungan, 2014-07-07 This pioneering study first published in 1995 retains its rank as one of the most powerful histories ever written about Irish involvement in World War 1 This year the centenary of the war sees its timely re publication as the Irishmen who fought in that war re enter the national memory after decades of indifference and hostility The gradual softening of attitudes over the last twenty years amid great historic change on the island of Ireland is due in no small part to the efforts of historians such as Myles Dungan to tell thousands of forgotten stories Drawing on the diaries letters literary works and oral accounts of soldiers Myles Dungan tells some of the personal stories of what Irishmen unionist and nationalist went through during the Great War and how many of them drew closer together during that horror than at any time since This volume deals with a selection of the most important battles and campaigns in which the three Irish Divisions participated

History of the Royal Irish Rifles George Brenton Laurie, 1914 In 1881 the 83rd County of Dublin Regiment of Foot was linked to the 86th Royal County Down Regiment of Foot thus forming the 1st and 2nd Battalions of a new regiment the Royal Irish Rifles In 1921 the designation was changed to the Royal Ulster Rifles This regimental history extends over a period of 120 years beginning with the raising of the 83rd and 86th in 1793 and ending in 1912 The author has done a thorough job with this book so I was more than a bit surprised to read in the Foreword by the Colonel of the Regiment in his 98th year his reference to this little book that I have before me when you could do with a porter to carry it for you This is a goldmine for the genealogist or medallist for not only does the detail of the text abound with the names of personnel but also there is the complete list of officers who served in the 83rd 86th and after 1881 the Royal Irish Rifles The information against each name gives date of commission or date of transferring from another regiment dates of subsequent promotions and the date he left the regiment and the reason such as retired resigned half pay died transferred to Indian Army or to another regiment etc Another list gives the names of other ranks awarded the DCM showing campaign and reason for the award and yet another names the officers who received the Military General Service Medal for service in the Peninsular War and which clasps were awarded Another appendix lists the succession of Colonels 83rd 86th and Royal Irish Rifles with details of their military careers This is a very good history which begins with the raising of the regiments and continues with each chapter devoted to one or the other regiments for a specific period Thus for example Chapter III is headed Eighty sixth Regiment 1793 1799 and Chapter VIII Eighty third Regiment 1805 1817 Most of the 83rd s Battle Honours were won in the Peninsular War where it took part in the campaign from 1809 to 1814 both regiments were in India during the same period 1842 1859 The narrative not only describes in great detail the actions battles and skirmishes with casualties but also all other events in the life of the regiments moves rations clothing equipment strength returns correspondence and so on The maps are very good and finally there is a chapter on dress the Colours and medals It is the story of a regiment

The Die-hards in the Great War: 1914-1916 Everard Wyrall, 1926 The Die Hards is the nickname of the Middlesex Regiment earned at the battle of Albuera in the Peninsular War in May 1811 The Regiment was one of five that had four regular battalions before the outbreak of war it also had two Special Reserve battalions 5th and 6th and four Territorial battalions 7th to 10th During the course of the war another thirty nine battalions were formed making the Regiment the second largest along with the King s Liverpool though not all battalions survived to the end of the war twenty four of them went abroad serving on the Western Front Gallipoli Italy Macedonia Mesopotamia India Egypt Palestine

Gibraltar and Siberia Losses amounted to 12 720 81 Battle Honours and 5 VCs were awarded The Middlesex were in it right from the start the first soldier of the BEF to be killed was L Cpl Parr 4th Middlesex on 21 August 1914 and the first officer to be killed was from the same battalion Major W H Abell at Mons on 23 August This is not a history that deals with each battalion independently there are too many of them The narrative describes the fortunes of the twenty four active service battalions with very good maps in the various theatres of war though mainly on the Western Front and on every page there is in the margin the date of the action or event being described and the battalion or battalions involved The first volume covers 1914 to the end of 1916 and the second takes up the story from the beginning of 1917 to the armistice including a chapter on operations in Siberia and Murmansk involving the 25th Battalion which didn't get home till September 1919 Speaking of his battalion 25th the CO said One and all behaved like Englishmen the highest eulogy that can be passed upon the conduct of men Sentiments like that expressed today would almost get you clapped in irons There is no Roll of Honour nor list of Honours and Awards There is a very useful appendix listing all the active service battalions with the brigades and divisions to which they were allocated with any subsequent changes and the theatres in which they served Tales of the Great War Sir Henry John Newbolt, 1917 Ulster, Ireland and the Somme Catherine Switzer, 2013-03-04 Ulster Ireland and the Somme tells the story of the relationship between Ulster Ireland and the Somme area of northern France which has now endured for nearly a century The 1916 Battle of the Somme is a key event in Irish memory of the Great War and thousands of people from both Northern Ireland and the Irish Republic visit the area each year but the history of the landscape and the memorials they see has never been told in any detail until now
