Richard John Neupert

The 400 Story:

The 400 Story Jim Scribbins, 2008 Three midwestern railroads introduced luxury passenger service in 1935 competing for Chicago Twin Cities business and leisure travelers Chicago and North Western's modern sleek and fast rail line began with a conventional steam powered train dubbed the 400 and named after its ambitious schedule 400 miles in 400 minutes In 1939 it evolved into an even faster diesel powered streamlined train eventually expanding into a fleet of streamliners that served Wisconsin Minnesota and upper Michigan The 400 Story captures the excitement of this era tracing the rise and fall of the premier passenger system that made Twin Cities 400 a household term in the upper Midwest Jim Scribbins had a lifetime career at Milwaukee Road and is the author of The Hiawatha Story Minnesota 2006 and four other books about upper midwestern railroads He lives in West Bend Wisconsin

The End Richard John Neupert, 1995 Given the importance that spectators grant to the final moments of a motion picture it is surprising to find so little written on how films end and how audiences interpret those closing moments This study investigates endings in film and the lively role they play in how and why viewers make sense of movies Relying upon contemporary literary criticism and film theory the author analyses narrative strategies in films ranging from the classical Hollywood motion picture to the more modern European art cinema To assist readers in understanding the various functions of endings the films are divided into four critical categories the Closed Text film typical of classical works the Open Story films the Open Discourse film and the Open Text film which struggles to defy story resolution Detailed textual analysis of sample films reveal how all of the devices of filmic narration from mise en scene to soundtracks direct a viewer's perception comprehension and interpretation of closure in films Among the sample films that are featured as test cases for studying endings are The Quiet Man Ford 1950 The 400 Blows Truffaut 1959 Weekend Godard 1967 Tout va bien Godard 1972 and Earth Dovzhenko 1930 To round out his informative study of endings in films Neupert also examines a host of diverse titles including Do the Right Thing Lee 1989 Open City Rossellini 1945 and The Graduate Nichols 1967
