Unrewarded Courage Brian Best, 2020-09-30 A historical analysis of the courageous military acts denied the highest award from the British honours system The Victoria Cross is the most exclusive and prestigious of all gallantry awards In order to retain this exclusivity the standard of courage endeavor or sacrifice required for a recommendation to be accepted for the award of the VC must be of the highest possible order This has meant that many extremely courageous acts have failed to be rewarded with the VC even though they appear to be just as remarkable in the level of danger and daring as some of those which were accepted for the medal The reason for this is that the awarding of the VC indeed even the acknowledgment from a commanding officer that an individual s action merits submission to the selection board is entirely subjective What one general might consider to be of exceptional valor might be regarded by another senior officer as merely a soldier carrying out his duty When Trooper Clement Roberts rode into the thick of battle in South Africa to rescue a young war reporter who had been thrown from his horse little did he know that he was saving the life of Britain s future wartime Prime Minister Sir Winston Churchill Recommended for the VC Roberts was eventually awarded the Distinguished Conduct Medal Similarly following the airborne operation at Arnhem in the Second World War Captain Michael Dauncey was recommended by three other officers for the award of the Victoria Cross These appeals however were rejected The reasons behind the failure to award Lieutenant Colonel Paddy Mayne a member of 1st SAS Regiment the VC despite repeated calls for his actions to be recognized in such a manner was the subject of an Early Day Motion put before the House of Commons as recently as June 2005 In this revealing and unique analysis of actions that did not result in the award of the VC despite recommendations to this effect Brian Best has highlighted the uneven decisions made throughout the decades and in campaigns around the globe that led to some men becoming national heroes and others equally courageous being merely footnotes in history Praise for Unrewarded Courage There have been plenty of books about the Victoria Cross and the men who were awarded them but this is the first I think about acts of bravery and valour that apparently did not merit the award Absolutely brilliant Books Monthly UK
