Slaves Of Isis Volume 3:

And God Knows the Martyrs Nathan S. French, 2020-03-24 Narratives of Jihadi Salafi operations are often filled with praise for what are considered exemplary acts of self renunciation in the vein of early Islamic tradition While many studies sift through the biographies of these so called martyrs for evidence of social psychological political or economic strain in an effort to rationalize what are often labeled suicide bombings Nathan French argues that through their legal arguments Jihadi Salafis craft a theodicy that is meant to address the suffering and oppression of the global Muslim community

Possessed by the Right Hand Bernard K. Freamon, 2019-05-20 In Possessed by the Right Hand the first comprehensive legal history of slavery in Islam ever offered to readers Bernard K Freamon an African American Muslim law professor provides a penetrating analysis of the problems of slavery and slave trading in Islamic history After examining the issues from pre Islamic times through to the nineteenth century Professor Freamon considers the impact of Western abolitionism arguing that such efforts have been a failure with the notion of abolition becoming nothing more than a cruel illusion He closes this ground breaking account with an examination of the slaving ideologies and actions of ISIS and Boko Haram asserting that Muslims now have an important and urgent responsibility to achieve true abolition under the aegis of Islamic law See Bernard Freamon live at Rutgers Law School October 8 2019 Listen to Possessed by the Right Hand An Interview with Prof Bernard Freamon from Network ReOrient on Anchor

Liminal Minorities Günes Murat Tezcür, 2024-04-15 Winner of the Religion and International Relations Book Award of the Religion and International Relations Section of the International Studies Association Winner of the Hubert Morken Award of the Religion and Politics Section of the American Political Science Association Liminal Minorities addresses the question of why some religious minorities provoke the ire of majoritarian groups and become targets of organized violence even though they lack significant power and pose no political threat Güne Murat Tezcür argues that these faith groups are stigmatized across generations as they lack theological recognition and social acceptance from the dominant religious group Religious justifications of violence have a strong mobilization power when directed against liminal minorities which makes these groups particularly vulnerable to mass violence during periods of political change Offering the first comparative historical study of mass atrocities against religious minorities in Muslim societies Tezcür focuses on two case studies the Islamic State's genocidal attacks against the Yezidis in northern Iraq in the 2010s and massacres of Alevis in Turkey in the 1970s and 1990s while also addressing discrimination and violence against followers of the Bahá'í faith in Iran and Ahmadis in Pakistan and Indonesia Analyzing a variety of original sources including interviews with survivors and court documents Tezcür reveals how religious stigmatization and political resentment motivate ordinary people to participate in mass atrocities

Russian-Ottoman Borderlands Lucien J. Frary, Mara Kozelsky, 2014-08-12 During the nineteenth century as violence population dislocations and rebellions unfolded in the borderlands between the Russian and Ottoman Empires European and Russian diplomats debated the Eastern Question or What should be done about the Ottoman Empire Russian Ottoman Borderlands brings together an international group of scholars to show that the Eastern Question was not just one but many questions that varied tremendously from one historical actor and moment to the next The Eastern Question or from the Ottoman perspective the Western Question became the predominant subject of international affairs until the end of the First World War Its legacy continues to resonate in the Balkans the Black Sea region and the Caucasus today The contributors address ethnicity religion popular attitudes violence dislocation and mass migration economic rivalry and great power diplomacy Through a variety of fresh approaches they examine the consequences of the Eastern Question in the lives of those peoples it most affected the millions living in the Russian and Ottoman Empires and the borderlands in between

Captives and Companions Justin Marozzi, 2025-10-21 The definitive history of the slave trade in the Islamic world a story that has been overshadowed by its notorious but shorter lived Atlantic counterpart Slavery in the Islamic world has a long complex and controversial history In the earliest days of Islam Arab Muslims enslaved men women and children as the spoils of war In the following centuries young boys were imported to imperial Islamic courts in enormous numbers Some were castrated to serve as eunuch guardians of sacred spaces from the imperial harem of Istanbul to the Prophet's Mosque in Medina Others were harvested by the Ottomans to serve as Janissaries the sultan's elite infantry unit Some even rose to the highest levels of political and military command making a mockery of their slave status For wom leading concubines became powerful figures in their own right In the ninth century Golden Age of Baghdad the most beautiful and accomplished courtesans were among the richest most celebrated figures of their day In the twentieth century more than a thousand years later their cosmopolitan counterparts were still entertaining Ottoman sultans Yet it was Africa which bore the brunt of the Islamic world s insatiable demand for slave labour Slavers plied its Mediterranean Atlantic and Indian Ocean coasts traders raided inland for human cargo and millions of enslaved Africans trudged across the Sahara into captivity Meanwhile North African corsairs turned the Mediterranean into a slaving free for all between Muslims Christians and Jews The sheer longevity of slavery was no less surprising Arab Muslims adapted and regulated this practice within an Islamic context Sanctioned by the Prophet Mohammed legitimated by the Quran and holy law slavery endured for fifteen centuries Abolition had few champions and came late in the day hereditary slavery continues even today in Mali and Mauritania

Captives and Companions takes the reader on an extraordinary historical journey across deserts continents and oceans from Baghdad to Bamako Tripoli to Timbuktu Istanbul to the Black Sea and reveals a hidden but vital chapter in our understanding of world civilization

Apuleius' Invisible Ass Geoffrey C. Benson,2019-05-09 Argues that invisibility is a central motif in Apuleius Metamorphoses presenting a new interpretation of this Latin masterpiece

The Caribbean and the Medical Imagination, 1764-1834 Emily Senior,2018-04-26 During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries the Caribbean was known as the grave of Europeans At the apex of British colonialism in the region between 1764 and 1834 the rapid spread of disease amongst colonist enslaved and indigenous populations made the Caribbean notorious as one of the deadliest places on earth Drawing on historical accounts from physicians surgeons and travellers alongside literary works Emily Senior traces the cultural impact of such widespread disease and death during the Romantic age of exploration and medical and scientific discovery Focusing on new fields of knowledge such as dermatology medical geography and anatomy Senior shows how literature was crucial to the development and circulation of new medical ideas and that the Caribbean as the hub of empire played a significant role in the changing disciplines and literary forms associated with the transition to modernity
