Some Kind Of Wonderful Movie Tie In:

Postmodernism, Feminism, and Cultural Politics Henry A. Giroux, 1991-01-01 This book introduces central assumptions that govern postmodern and feminist theory offering educators a language to create new ways of conceiving pedagogy and its relationship to social cultural and intellectual life It challenges some of the major categories and practices that have dominated educational theory and practice in the United States and in other countries since the beginning of the twentieth century Rejecting the apolitical nature of some postmodern discourses and the separatism characteristic of some versions of cultural feminism the contributors take a political stand rooted in concern with cultural and social justice In so doing these essays represent a linguistic shift regarding how we think about ethics foundationalism difference and culture The selections present a concern with developing a language that is critical of master narratives racism sexism and those technologies of power in schools that subjugate infantilize and oppress students The authors also develop a language of possibility that focuses on analyzing how power can be linked productively to knowledge how teachers can construct classroom social relations based on notions of equity and justice how critical pedagogy can contribute to an identity politics that is grounded in democratic relations and how teachers can develop analyses that enable students to become self reflective actors as they transform themselves and the conditions of their social existence

Actor-Network Theory at the Movies

Björn Sonnenberg-Schrank, 2020-01-29 This book is one of the first to apply the theoretical tools proposed by French philosopher Bruno Latour to film studies Through the example of the Hollywood Teen Film and with a particular focus on Actor Network Theory ANT the book delineates how Teen Film has established itself as one of Hollywood's most consistent and dynamic genres While many productions may recycle formulaic patterns there is also a proliferation of cinematic coming of age narratives that are aesthetically and politically progressive experimental and complex The case studies develop a Latourian film semiotics as a flexible analytical approach which raises new questions not only about the history types and tropes of teen films but also about their aesthetics mediality and composition Through an exploration of a wide and diverse range of examples from the past decade including films by female and African American directors urban and rural perspectives and non heteronormative sexualities Actor Network Theory at the Movies demonstrates how the classic Teen Film canon has been regurgitated expanded and renewed
