Reducing the Risk of Violent Crime Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Committee of Public Accounts,2008 This is the 45th report from the Committee of Public Accounts HCP 546 session 2007 08 It follows an NAO report on the same topic published as HCP 241 session 2007 08 ISBN 9780102952964 In general violent crime has fallen in recent years but mores serious violent offences such as homicide and wounding have not fallen as swiftly The number of recorded crimes involving a firearm doubled between 1998 99 and 2005 06 as did the number of 15 17 year olds convicted of carrying a knife in public The Committee has set out a number of conclusions and recommendations including that only since 2007 has it been mandatory for the police to record the presence of a knife at the scene of a crime that the majority of victims of violent crime treated in A that the Committee believes that the Home Office and the Department of Health should jointly establish a national system for the automatic sharing of depersonalised violent crime data between hospitals police and the Crime that the Department has made little progress since 2005 in managing to distribute funding for tackling violent crime to the Crime that the Home Office has a limited understanding of the nature of gang membership and activity and how such activity has changed over time that only one third of the Crime Disorder Reduction Partnerships had developed written strategies to tackle violent crime and that they also lacked the analytical capacity needed to assess the data they collect on violent crime in their locality

British Planning Policy in Transition Mark Tewdwr-Jones,2003-09-02 First Published in 1995 This book aims to consider the statutory planning policy system in Britain at the present time 1995 and predominantly takes as a starting point the development of the current processes in the period since 1989 90 The choice of time period for the study is deliberate and has been governed by two main issues First it coincides with the publication in 1989 of a government White Paper on the future of development plans This paper had immense implications for the statutory planning system and effectively precipitated a new era for the future framework of planning policy Secondly 1990 marks the end of Margaret Thatcher s period as Prime Minister and since we are discussing British planning policy within the context of changing political climates it is appropriate to assess the statutory planning process under John Major s administration The resultant essays which have been assembled therefore take the planning policy changes of the last five years as the focus of study and provide a context within which an in depth analysis of inter governmental planning relations may occur
