Arthropod Collection and Identification Timothy J. Gibb, Christian Oseto, 2010-07-26 Arthropods are the most numerous and diverse group of animals and studying them requires the use of specialized equipment and specific procedures This text describes effective methods and equipment for collecting identifying rearing examining and preserving insects and mites and explains how to store and care for specimens in collections It also provides instructions for the construction of many kinds of collecting equipment traps rearing cages and storage units as well as updated and illustrated keys for identification of the classes of arthropods and the orders of insects Such information not only aids hobbyists and professionals in preparing insect collections but it has become essential in documenting and standardizing collections of entomological evidence in forensic as well as pest management sciences Over 400 professionally drawn illustrations Identification keys to find arthropod orders Comprehensive reading list Detailed glossary of terms

Collection Management John Kennedy, 2006-06-01 The rapidly increasing reliance on digital rather than print based resources has not diminished the importance of library collection management but it has required significant modification in the thinking and the practice of collection managers who today usually have to consider their clients need for both print based and digital materials This updated edition aims to provide a concise overview of the major elements of contemporary collection management of print and digital resources including policy formulation selection acquisition evaluation preservation deselection and cooperative collecting in a way which aims to be of interest to the student and to any other reader seeking an understanding of a particularly dynamic area of librarianship Much that has been previously published on collection management focuses on academic libraries particularly those in North America This book places greater emphasis on the experiences of smaller public and special libraries and attempts to view its subject from the perspective of libraries in Australia and other countries geographically remote from North America and Western Europe Dr John Kennedy has taught collection management at Charles Sturt University for over a decade and has produced several previous publications on the subject

Digital Media Megan A. Winget, William Aspray, 2011-09-22 Digital media has exploded over the past quarter century and in particular the past decade As varieties of digital media multiply scholars are beginning to examine its origins organization and preservation which present new challenges compared to traditional media To examine issues from multiple perspectives experts were invited to an invitation only workshop on digital media The participants were carefully chosen to represent a variety of backgrounds and perspectives ranging from humanities and fine arts to communication theory The papers collected here are the results of that workshop Digital Media Technological and Social Challenges of the Interactive World is organized in four parts each representing a different perspective on digital media preservation humanities organizational and historical The section on preservation considers the problems of archiving digital media for long term preservation the humanities section offers a human centered view of digital media focusing on the interaction between technological changes and cultural practices the section dealing with organization goes beyond the study of digital artifacts in isolation to consider the context collection and arrangement of objects and the historical section examines how our perspectives on digital media have changed over time looking at how issues such as the digital divide and digital production have changed as technology has changed The wealth of varied perspectives in Digital Media provides new light on this topic beyond the media studies viewpoint that is the most common way of engaging these topics This collection will be a valuable addition for students and faculty in information studies communication studies rhetoric new media and more
