culture Claiming Diaspora Su Zheng, 2011-10-25 Framed by a century and a half of racialized Chinese American musical experiences Claiming Diaspora explores the thriving contemporary musical culture of Asian Chinese America. Ranging from traditional operas to modern instrumental music from ethnic media networks to popular music from Asian American jazz to the work of recent avant garde composers author Su Zheng reveals the rich and diverse musical activities among Chinese Americans and tells of the struggles of Chinese Americans to gain a foothold in the American cultural terrain. She not only tells their stories but also examines the dynamics of the diasporic connections of this musical culture revealing how Chinese American musical activities both reflect and contribute to local national and transnational cultural politics and challenging us to take a fresh look at the increasingly plural and complex nature of American cultural identity Let Jasmine Rain Down Kay Kaufman Shelemay, 1998-12 When Jews left Aleppo Syria in the early twentieth century and established communities abroad they carried with them a repertory of songs pizmonim with sacred Hebrew texts set to melodies borrowed from the popular Middle Eastern Arab musical tradition Let Jasmine Rain Down tells the story of the pizmonim as they have continued to be composed performed and transformed through the present day it is thus an innovative ethnography of an important Judeo Arabic musical tradition and a probing contribution to studies of the link between collective memory and popular culture. Shelemay views the intersection of music individual remembrances and collective memory through the pizmonim. Reconstructing a century of pizmon history in America based on research in New York Mexico and Israel she explains how verbal and musical memories are embedded in individual songs and how these songs perform both what has been remembered and what otherwise would have been forgotten. In confronting issues of identity and meaning in a postmodern world Shelemay moves ethnomusicology into the domain of memory studies.

Homelands and Diasporas Giorgia Foscari, Dario Miccoli, Marcella Simoni, 2019-01-15 The volume brings together a collection of essays on Jewish related subjects to celebrate Emanuela Trevisan Semi's career and research authored by some former students friends and colleagues on the occasion of her retirement. Drawing upon the many academic interests and research of Trevisan Semi one of the most important European scholars of Jewish and Israel Studies the volume discusses the diversity of Jewish culture both in the diaspora and in Israel. The contributors here wrote their pieces understanding Jewish culture as inscribed in a set of different yet interrelated homelands and diasporas depending on the time and space we refer to and what this means for communities and individuals living in places as different as West Africa Poland Morocco and Israel and the Occupied Palestinian Territories. At the same time they discuss the notion of diaspora as being crucial in the formation of the Jewish cultural identity both before and after the birth of the State of Israel The Cambridge History of World Music Philip V. Bohlman, 2013-12-12 Scholars have long known that world music was not merely the globalized product of modern media but rather that it connected religions cultures languages and nations throughout world history. The chapters in this History take readers to foundational historical moments in Europe Oceania China India the Muslim world

North and South America in search of the connections provided by a truly world music Historically world music emerged from ritual and religion labor and life cycles which occupy chapters on Native American musicians religious practices in India and Indonesia and nationalism in Argentina and Portugal The contributors critically examine music in cultural encounter and conflict and as the critical core of scientific theories from the Arabic Middle Ages through the Enlightenment to postmodernism Overall the book contains the histories of the music of diverse cultures which increasingly become the folk popular and classical music of our own era

Music and the Play of Power in the Middle East, North Africa and Central Asia Laudan Nooshin, 2016-04-29 What is it about the history geographical position and cultures of the Middle East North Africa and Central Asia that has made music such a potent and powerful agent This volume presents the first direct look at the complex relationship between music and power across a range of musical genres and countries Discourses of power in the region centre on some of the most contested social issues most notably in relation to nationhood gender and religion Individual chapters examine the ways in which music serves as a forum for playing out issues of power ideology resistance and subversion How does music become a space for promoting or conversely resisting or subverting particular ideologies or positions of authority How does it accrue symbolic power in ways that are very particular perhaps unique And how does music become a site of social control or alternatively a vehicle for agency and empowerment at times overt and at others highly subtle What is it about music that facilitates and sometimes disrupts the exercise and flows of power Who controls such flows how and for what purposes In asking such questions in the context of countries such as Afghanistan Egypt Iran Tunisia and Tajikistan the book draws on a wide range of relevant theoretical and critical ideas and many disciplines including ethnomusicology anthropology sociology politics Middle Eastern studies globalization studies gender studies and cultural and media studies The countries and areas explored share a great deal in historical and cultural terms including a legacy of colonial and neo colonial encounters and predominantly Judeo Muslim religious traditions It is hoped that the volume will contribute ultimately to a richer understanding of the role that music plays in these societies

Carnochan, 2008 From the eighteenth century to the present travellers explorers journalists imaginative writers like Samuel Johnson and legendary reggae musician Bob Marley have shared a fascination with Abyssinia So did even earlier writers and mapmakers who thought Abyssinia was the land of the mythical and fabulously rich Christian ruler Prester John The principal subject of this book is the allure of the exotic as represented by Abyssinia to the British imagination In addition to Johnson and Marley some others included are the eighteenth century Scot James Bruce nineteenth century explorer Richard Burton author Evelyn Waugh Wilfred Thesiger best known of twentieth century British explorers Sylvia Pankhurst crusading journalist and daughter of the suffragist Emmeline Pankhurst and the contemporary Irish traveller Dervla Murphy The author also considers the beginnings of anthropology and the variations of quest narrative in modern travel writing Performing Religion Gregory F. testing ideas and interpretations against some kind of external reality But in musicology the kinds of empirical approaches familiar in the social sciences have played a relatively marginal role being generally restricted to inter disciplinary areas such as psychology and sociology of music Rather than advocating a new kind of musicology Empirical Musicology provides a guide to empirical approaches that are ready for incorporation into the contemporary musicologist s toolkit Its nine chapters cover perspectives from music theory computational musicology ethnomusicology and the psychology and sociology of music as well as an introduction to musical data analysis and statistics This book shows that such approaches could play an important role in the further development of the discipline as a whole not only through the application of statistical and modeling methods to musical scores but also and perhaps more importantly in terms of understanding music as a complex social practice

Dark Mother Lucia Chiavola Birnbaum, 2001 Bringing a feminist perspective to contemporary findings of geneticists and archeologists Lucia Chiavola Birnbaum cultural historian points out that the oldest veneration we know is of a dark mother of central and south Africa whose signs ochre red and the pubic V were taken by african migrants after 50 000 BCE to caves and cliffs of all continents The oldest sanctuary in the world was created in 40 000 BCE by african migrants in Har Karkom later called Mt Sinai foundation place of judaism christianity and islam Lucia documents the continuing memory of the dark mother and her values in prehistoric images of the dark mother in historic black madonnas and in other dark women divinities whose sanctuaries are on african paths She tracks the memory in rituals and stories of her sicilian grandmothers in persecution of dark others in patriarchal Europe and the United States in the rise of nonviolent dark others since the 1960s in the banners of the 1995 world conference of women at Beijing and in art She finds the dark mother s values justice with compassion equality and transformation in everyday and celebratory rituals of the world s subaltern cultures and suggests that the image and values are in the submerged memories of everyone
