Love & Eroticism Mike Featherstone,1999-09-20 This major collection explores the contested nature of love and eroticism examining the ways in which erotic bodily pleasures have become central to contemporary consumer culture It investigates the spatial dimension of erotic life through considerations of Bohemian love the gay city and the ways in which the urban landscape and everyday life have become sexualized issues which have become central to the emergence of queer as a new form of gender politics and more general questions of sexual citizenship Drawing on the work of feminists sociologists and cultural theorists this book contains a wide ranging and accessible set of contributions to contemporary debates on sexuality love and eroticism Love Erotici

Love Anthony Walsh,2017-07-05 Love is a little word with a universe of meanings and has engaged people s interest throughout human history The need to give and receive love lies deep within human nature Philosophers poets theologians sociologists and scientists have all attempted to explain its exact origin but is it an evolutionary adaptation or a social construct Walsh discusses that the nature of and need for love has biological origins He draws upon Darwin's sexual selection theory to define the perceptions of love by infants through the process of experience dependent brain wiring. He observes that mother love makes a child capable of loving and that father love makes a child feel worthy of love. He appraises the origin and purpose of romantic love in his discussions on sexual reproduction by looking at chemical and neurological responses to love and the influence of love on one's physical and mental health. With frequent quotes from literary masters like Shakespeare to orient one's scientific and humanistic understanding of love, Walsh goes on to explore various styles of romantic love including monogamy, promiscuity, bartering love, and betrayed love; the effects of a skewed sex ratio on dating and mating practices; and the age-old quest for a perfect society populated by perfect people obeying the biblical command to love one another.
