The Downmountain Drum:

The Downmountain Drum Joe L. Davenport, 2002-07-24 In the late 1950s Pen Tillman returns to Wyoming University after fulfilling his military obligation. Because of his impressive junior downhill racing record he is offered a much needed skiing scholarship. He gratefully accepts but remains stubbornly focused on getting an engineering degree. Skiing would simply be a means to that end. Much to his surprise that focus is shattered at the first practice session with the embryonic Wyoming ski team and its ambitious coach Rodaman. Old racing instincts return with a vengeance. A close friend persuades him to take an unwanted elective course and the beautiful woman speech instructor is drawn to him by their mutual interest in writing and self expression. There begins a powerful romance and a harrowing downhill racing odyssey that carries him toward a surprising destiny with the U S Ski Team and the 1960 Olympics. Jealous detractors and fierce competitors attempt to defeat his quest for the gold and alienate the woman he loves. The force of his driving talent and will to win changes the lives of those around him forever. Jack Kerouac and Allen Ginsberg Jack Kerouac, Allen Ginsberg, 2010-07-08 The first collection of letters between the two leading figures of the Beat movement. Writers and cultural icons Jack Kerouac and Allen Ginsberg are the most celebrated names of the Beat Generation linked together not only by their shared artistic sensibility but also by a deep and abiding friendship one that colored their lives and greatly influenced their writing. Editors Bill Morgan and David Stanford shed new light on this intimate and influential friendship in this fascinating exchange of letters between Kerouac and Ginsberg two thirds of which have never been published before. Commencing in 1944 while Ginsberg was a student at Columbia University and continuing until shortly before Kerouac's death in 1969 the two hundred letters included in this book provide astonishing insight into their lives and their writing. While not always in agreement Ginsberg and Kerouac inspired each other spiritually and creatively and their letters became a vital workshop for their art. Vivid engaging and enthralling Jack Kerouac and Allen Ginsberg The Letters provides an unparalleled portrait of the two men who led the cultural and artistic movement that defined their generation. The Drums of Aulone Robert William Chambers, 1927 The Upside Down Mountain , Frightful's Mountain Jean Craighead George, 2001-05-22 Frightful the peregrine falcon could not see. A falconer's hood covered her head and eyes. She remained quiet and clam like all daytime birds in the dark. She would hear however. She listened to the wind whistling through the pine needles. The wind music conjured up images of a strange woods and unknown flowers. The sound was foreign. It was not the soft song of wind humming through the hemlock needles of home. Frightful was a long way from her familiar forest. Suddenly an all invading passion filled her. She must go. She must find one mountain among thousands one hemlock tree among millions. And the one boy who called himself Sam Gribble. The one mountain was her territory the one tree was Sam's house the perch beside it her place. And Sam Gribble was life. So begins the third book in the wilderness series that has lifted imaginations around the world. Readers last heard from Sam Gribble a decade ago when he kept the hardest resolution of his life and let his falcon partner go free Now at last we pick up the story but this time the narrative continues through Frightful's keen sighted eyes Raised by Sam Frightful is an imprinted bird She has no idea how to migrate mate or be a mother She can barely even feed herself for although she is a skilled hunter it was always Sam who signaled permission to partake of the kill Sam so patient and kind will support her from afar and so will bird activists Jon and Susan Wood and conservationist Leon Longbridge But despite a letter writing campaign by local schoolchildren other would despoil her Catskill home designing fatal electrical wires and disturbing good nesting areas with jackhammers and paint trucks With evolution and a proud natural intelligence on her side Frightful may yet beat the odds of famine winter and human encroachment But her terrible longing for that one mountain among thousands her first home a longing so noble and generous yet so dangerous will govern her to either heartbreaking failure or heart aching triumph a triumph so right and so natural that readers will want to take to the skies in celebration Jean Craighead George published My Side of the Mountain in 1959 a Newbery Honor Book and coming of age story that has enthralled and entertained generations of would be Sams This third book in the series shares in exquisite elegantly flowing prose Frightful's own passage into adulthood taking readers on a journey into the mind and spirit of one of the wild's most magnificent creations and proving once again why the author is considered the most gifted nature writer of her time
