The Early Poems

John G. Whittier

The Early Poems:

Robin Hood Thomas H. Ohlgren, Lister M. Matheson, 2007 While references to Robin Hood began to appear as early as the thirteenth century in legal records the earliest surviving poems did not appear in manuscripts and early printed books until the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries Several fourteenth century allusions in the works of William Langland and Geoffrey Chaucer suggest that the rymes of Robyn Hood were widely circulating by the 1370s but it is vital to note none of these late fourteenth century works survives A better approach Thomas H Ohlgren argues is to focus on what has actually survived rather than on what might have existed As a result the poems Robin Hood and the Monk and Robin Hood and the Potter which survive in two different Cambridge manuscripts of the last third of the fifteenth century and A Lytell Geste of Robyn Hode which was printed at least seven times in the sixteenth century must receive pride of place in the canon because they have a physical reality as material artifacts in short they exist and provide valuable information about the places and times of their composition and dissemination
