The Optimum Utilization Of Knowledge Kenneth E. Boulding, Lawrence Senesh, 2019-06-26 We all have more knowledge than we use even so say the editors of this book ignorance often governs our actions Society continues to find ways to misuse knowledge from manipulating information to gain political power to restricting what ideas are explored on university campuses Thus when some of the best minds in the country met to focus on the optimum utilization of knowledge it was not an idle academic inquiry In these proceedings from that conference which was sponsored by the Academy of Independent Scholars the contributors examine several of the key aspects of learning the importance of knowledge in decision making the role of our educational system and other systems in producing and disseminating knowledge and the relationship between knowledge and the physiological psychological and cultural bases of the learning process The misuse of knowledge or the overuse of ignorance the authors note could threaten the existence of the entire planet if the kind of thinking exemplified by the nuclear arms race prevails Optimum Utilization of Knowledge. Making Knowledge Serve Human Betterment. Papers Presented at a Symposium, 1981, Amherst, Mass Kenneth E. Boulding, Lawrence Senesh, 1983

Future Survey Annual 1984 World Future Society, 1984-06-01 Integrating Knowledge Through Interdisciplinary Research Dominic Holland, 2013-08-22 In this important new text Holland seeks to explain by means of social scientific and philosophical inquiry the difficulties that researchers often experience when attempting to integrate knowledge from different academic disciplines either individually or as part of a team of subject specialists It is argued that the difficulty of integrating knowledge from different academic disciplines is the result of firstly an inadequate justification of the nature of scientific integration and differentiation and secondly the dominance of disciplinary specialization in scientific inquiry By focusing on both the theoretical justification for and the practical feasibility of integrating knowledge through interdisciplinary research this book asks what properties of reality make the integration of knowledge from different academic disciplines possible and to what extent it is feasible to integrate knowledge through interdisciplinary research within a traditional disciplinary context Accordingly the text is both philosophical and social scientific in content philosophical in the sense that it presents a theory of causal determination which will help researchers to understand how reality is both differentiated and interconnected social scientific in the sense that it presents the results of three case studies of collaborative interdisciplinary research projects The book is heavily informed by the philosophy of critical realism The philosophical argument about the possibility of integration and specialization in science draws explicitly on some of the key concepts of critical realism particularly those comprising the theory of integrative pluralism while critical realist assumptions underpin the social scientific argument about the causal influence of the social system of knowledge production By exploring researchers conceptions of knowledge and of reality on the one hand and their decisions about what sort of knowledge to produce on the other Holland shows how the difficulty of scientific integration is both a problem of knowledge and a problem of knowledge production This book is essential reading for students and academics interested in the emerging topic of knowledge integration and interdisciplinarity Knocking on the Back Door Institute for Research on Public Policy,1987 The papers in this volume offer a wide range of perspectives on the Canada US free trade debate and on Canada US trade relations generally Includes revised versions of papers delivered at a conference organized and sponsored by Carleton University s School of Administration in the fall of 1986 The papers focus on issues of process and politics including the problems of adjusting to trade liberalization sovereignty the negotiating process and the role of social science and many other topics such as the past behaviour of business people adapting to previous trade liberalization the nature of the actual negotiations and the role of the provinces in these negotiations Linking Research and Public Health Practice Institute of Medicine,Committee to Review the CDC Centers for Research and Demonstration of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention,1997-01-31 Health promotion and disease prevention are central priorities in the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention CDC vision To advance research in these areas Congress authorized and CDC established a program of university based Centers for Research and Demonstration of Health Promotion and Disease Prevention to explore improved ways of appraising health hazards and to serve as demonstration sites for new and innovative research in public health Begun in 1986 with three centers there are now fourteen In response to a CDC request to evaluate the program Linking Research and Public Health Practice examines the vision for the prevention research centers program the projects conducted by the centers and the management and oversight of the program In conducting the evaluation the IOM committee took a broad view of how prevention research can influence the health of communities and considered both the proximal risk factors for disease prevention and the more distal conditions for health promotion and improved equity in the distribution of risk factors Month Rockin' in Red Square Walter Grünzweig,Nana Rinehart,2002 International educators can take the high road towards rigorous investment in the ideals of true cultural exchange or continue down the low road to customer satisfaction and design programs that reduce or eliminate challenges International education structured according to the latter principle is little more than just another product in the global marketplace In spite of the process of globalization and partly because of it international education faces a major crisis This volume with contributors from Austria Chile France Germany The Netherlands and the United States sets forth a timely and provocative critique of international education and assesses its future under radically different conditions than those in place twenty years ago Walter Grnzweig is professor of American literature and culture at Universitt Dortmund He holds adjunct professorships at the University of Pennsylvania University of New York at Binghamton and Canisius College Nana Rinehart is associate director of the International Student Exchange Program The Collected Papers of Leonid Hurwicz Samiran Banerjee,2022 Introduces non specialist readers to the life and work of Leonid Hurwicz a major contributor to modern theoretical economics Includes papers covering talks Hurwicz gave over the last 4 decades of his life providing a detailed and nuanced understanding of economic systems and the informational and incentive issues in designing mechanisms Contains reviews and essays on decision theory and game theory for lay readers Brings together reminiscences from co authors and colleagues offering insights into Hurwicz as a person and scholar Book jacket      Work at the Boundaries of Science C.L. Palmer,2013-06-29 Interdisciplinary inquiry has become more pervasive in recent decades yet we still know little about the conduct of this type of research or the information problems associated with it This book is one of few empirical studies of interdisciplinary knowledge practices It examines how interdisciplinary scientists discover and exchange information and knowledge highlighting how the boundaries between disciplines affect how information is used and how knowledge is constructed It is written for scholars and practitioners with an interest in developing information systems and research environments to foster innovative scientific work Target groups include researchers in information science science studies communication as well as research administrators and information professionals      Handbook of Decision Making Paul C. Nutt,David C. Wilson,2010-05-17 HANDBOOK OF DECISION MAKING This handbook offers a state of the art overview of research and theories on decision making in organizations at the strategic level of analysis Chapters are authored by leading international scholars with some illustrative case vignettes from practitioners Each contributor was selected for his her special knowledge of the field The Handbook addresses key questions confronting the decision making research of the past and the present offers critiques and suggests future research directions Topics covered emphasize the classic decision theory perspectives while also incorporating recent insights from the fields of strategic choice risk uncertainty scenario planning and complexity theory with a broad social science perspective on the disciplinary roots of decision theory in economics politics and social theory This is a landmark reference volume for the field offering scholars and practitioners Comprehensive but accessible coverage of classic and recent developments Chapters by established international experts Case analyses illustrating practical consequences of theories Guide to new research directions and theory      Barriers To Integrity Donna H. Kerr,2019-04-08 In the world of Aristotle the education of individuals might have led to virtuous action But today integrity of action also requires the education of institutions Those very structures designed to enhance the just use of knowledge too often stand instead as barriers to integrity Bureaucracy shapes our actions in a manner reflective of a Platonic approach to knowledge and the political order an approach that labels some as true knowers and grants them the ultimate power to decide what is to be done Professionalism the institution with which we legitimize and use expertise imbues our actions with the Aquinian belief that any disobedience of directives from reigning experts risks unacceptably the loss of order In our research system representing our main collective effort to generate new knowledge we unwittingly put into practice Hume s conception of knowledge which takes the outcomes of science to be an accumulation of facts and John Stuart Mill s political theory which overlooks the role of community in the lives of individuals The stakes are high argues Dr Kerr Given these conceptions of knowledge and the political values that are inherent in our primary modes of knowledge utilization conceptions that we should not embrace only with fundamental reforms of our institutions can our society hope to gain integrity Dr Kerr discusses how bureaucracy professionalism and the research system could be altered so that they might structure actions in more defensible and desirable ways Frontiers of Learning Pjotr Hesseling,2021-03-22 No detailed description available for Frontiers of Learning Looking for Information Donald O. Case,Lisa M.
