The Dreaded Comparison Race And Animal Slavery:

The Dreaded Comparison Marjorie Spiegel,1996 The Dreaded Comparison provocatively presents the first in depth exploration of the similarities between the violence humans have wrought against other humans and our culture's treatment of non human animals Marjorie Spiegel's examination of power and the source of oppressive behavior is essential reading for anyone interested in psychology history African American studies or animals This highly original book is at once chilling and enlightening and vitally important to our efforts to understand the roots of individual and societal violence Animal Rights/human Rights David Alan Nibert,2002 This accessible and cutting edge work offers a new look at the history of western civilization one that brings into focus the interrelated suffering of oppressed humans and other animals Nibert argues persuasively that throughout history the exploitation of other animals has gone hand in hand with the oppression of women people of color and other oppressed groups He maintains that the oppression both of humans and of other species of animals is inextricably tangled within the structure of social arrangements Nibert asserts that human use and mistreatment of other animals are not natural and do little to further the human condition Nibert's analysis emphasizes the economic and elite driven character of prejudice discrimination and institutionalized repression of humans and other animals His examination of the economic entanglements of the oppression of human and other animals is supplemented with an analysis of ideological forces and the use of state power in this sociological expose of the grotesque uses of the oppressed past and present Nibert suggests that the liberation of devalued groups of humans is unlikely in a world that uses other animals as fodder for the continual growth and expansion of transnational corporations and conversely that animal liberation cannot take place when humans continue to be exploited and oppressed Ethical and Moral Issues Relating to Animals John Timothy Allen,1993 Animals and Race Jonathan W. Thurston-Torres,2023-02-01 The intersection of race and species has a long and problematic history Western thinking specifically has demonstrated a societal need to try to conceive of race as a purely biological fact rather than a social construct This book is an academic activist challenge to that instinct prioritizing anti racism in its observation of the animal race intersection Too often as B n dicte Boisseron has indicated this intersection typically appears in the form of animal activists instrumentalizing racial discrimination as a vehicle to approach animal rights But why does this intersection exist and perhaps more importantly how can we challenge it moving forward This volume examines those two critical questions taking an interdisciplinary approach in moving across subjects including art history film studies American history and digital media analysis Our interpretation of animals has for centuries been fundamental in the development of Western race thinking This collection of essays looks at how this perspective contributes to the construction of racial discrimination prioritizing ways to read the animal in our culture as a means for working to dismantle this conception Animals, Race, and Multiculturalism Luís Cordeiro-Rodrigues,Les Mitchell,2017-12-20 This book focuses on multiculturalism racism and the interests of nonhuman animals Each are in their own right rapidly growing and controversial fields of enquiry but how do multiculturalism and racism intersect with the debate concerning animals and their interests This a deceptively simple question but on that is becoming ever more pressing as we examine our societal practices in a pluralistic world Collating the work of a diverse group of academics from across the world the book includes writing on a wide range of subjects and addressing contemporary issues in this critical arena Subjects covered include multiculturalism group rights and the limits of tolerance ethnocentrism and animals racism and discrimination and non Western alternatives to animal rights and welfare The book will be of interest to researchers lecturers and advanced students as well as range of social justice organisations government institutions animal activist organisations and environmental groups Ethical and Moral Issues Relating to Animals Karen J. Clingerman,1990 Ethical and Moral Issues Relating to Animals Janice C. Swanson,1992 Race Matters, Animal Matters Lindgren Johnson,2017-11-08 Race Matters Animal Matters challenges one of the grand narratives of African American studies that African Americans rejected racist associations of blackness and animality through a disassociation from animality Analyzing canonical texts written by Frederick Douglass Charles Chesnutt Ida B Wells and James Weldon Johnson alongside slaughterhouse lithographs hunting photography and sheep husbandry manuals Lindgren Johnson argues instead for a critical African American tradition that at pivotal moments reconsiders and recuperates discourses of animality weaponized against both African Americans and animals Johnson articulates a theory of fugitive humanism in which these texts flee both white and human exceptionalism even as they move within and seek out a revised humanist space The focus for example is not on how African Americans shake off animal associations in demanding recognition of their humanity but on how they hold fast to animality and animals in making such a move revising the human itself as they go and undermining the binaries that helped to produce racial and animal injustices Fugitive humanism reveals how an interspecies ethics develops in these African American responses to violent dehumanization Illuminating those moments in which the African American canon exceeds human exceptionalism Race Matters Animal Matters ultimately shows how these black engagements with animals and animality are not subsequent to efforts for racial justice a mere extension of the abolitionist or antilynching movements but to the contrary are integral to those efforts This black authored temporality challenges widely accepted humanist approaches to the relationship between racial and animal justice as it anticipates and even critiques the valuable insights that animal studies and posthumanism have to offer in our current moment The Sexual Politics of Meat - 25th Anniversary Edition Carol J. Adams,2015-11-05 The Sexual Politics of Meat is Carol Adams inspiring and controversial exploration of the interplay between contemporary society s ingrained cultural misogyny and its obsession with meat and masculinity First published in 1990 the book has continued to change the lives of tens of thousands of readers into the second decade of the 21st century Published in the year of the book s 25th anniversary the Bloomsbury Revelations edition includes a substantial new afterword including more than 20 new images and discussions of recent events that prove beyond doubt the continuing relevance of Adams revolutionary book The Palgrave Handbook of Animals and Literature Susan McHugh, Robert McKay, John Miller, 2020-11-25 This volume is the first comprehensive guide to current research on animals, animality, and human-animal relations in literature. To reflect the history of literary animal studies to date, its primary focus is literary prose and poetry in English, while also accommodating emergent discussions of the full range of media and contexts with which literary studies engages, especially film and critical theory. User-friendly language, references, even suggestions for further readings are included to help newcomers to the field understand how it has taken shape primarily through recent decades. To further aid teachers, sections are organized by conventions of periodization, and chapters address a range of canonical and popular texts. Bookended by sections devoted to the field's conceptual foundations and new directions, the volume is designed to set an agenda for literary animal studies for decades to come.
