Miller,2012-12-10 This familiar guide to information resources in the humanities and the arts organized by subjects and emphasizing electronic resources enables librarians teachers and students to quickly find the best resources for their diverse needs Authoritative trusted and timely Information Resources in the Humanities and the Arts Sixth Edition introduces new librarians to the breadth of humanities collections experienced librarians to the nature of humanities scholarship and the scholars themselves to a wealth of information they might otherwise have missed This new version of a classic resource the first update in over a decade has been refreshed to account for the myriad of digital resources that have rewritten the rules of the reference and research world and been expanded to include significantly increased coverage of world literature and languages This book is invaluable for a wide variety of users librarians in academic public school and special library settings researchers in religion philosophy literature and the performing and visual arts graduate students in library and information science and teachers and students in humanities the arts and interdisciplinary degree programs

The Economics of Art Museums Martin Feldstein, 2009-05-15 The National Bureau of Economic Research organized a project to explore the economic issues facing the major art museums of the United States For this purpose NBER defined economics broadly to include not only the financial situation of the museums but also the management and growth of museum collections the museums relationship with the public and the role of the government in supporting art museums This volume brings together nontechnical essays on these issues by economists associated with the NBER and personal statements by leaders of America's major national art museums and related foundations It can be read not only by economists but also by museum officials and trustees Museum directors generally come to their responsibilities with a background in art history and curatorial work but without experience in thinking about the management and public policy aspects of museum administration Trustees who serve on museum boards generally have a background in business or law but have not previously tried to apply their experience to the unusual economic problems of museums The background papers the panelists remarks and the summary of the discussion will help them to approach their responsibilities with a better understanding of the problems and possibilities of the museum
